NOW'S THE TIME

To get used to a W-FORD. You'll have to get used to it, because it bakes quicker than any other range you ever handled.

THE FIRE BRICKED STOVE BOTTOM

Prevents the heat from leaking out through the bottom and sends it all up through the oven. No other stove has it.

THE REGULATING DAMPER

Enables you to change the temperature of your oven without forcing or deadening the fire. No unnecessary waste of fuel. No other stove has it.

THE "NEW" RANGE.

Different from all others. Bakes better, quicker. Ask the users, 500 of them all around you.

THE CRAWFORD

Has more new things about it than all others combined; more made and sold today than any other.

90 per cent of those who look buy a CRAWFORD.

COAL PRICES

Have no terror for CRAWFORD users. Other stoves waste ¼ of the heat the coal generates, CRAWFORDS use it all—¼ less coal to do the same work, see!

THE CUP JOINT FLUES

Make the draft absolutely perfect and force the heat direct to the oven. Other stoves have weak drafts and allow the heat to radiate before it gets to the oven.

THE NEW DOCK ASH GRATES

Enable you to clean out the bottom of the fire pot without shaking the life out of the fire, and help you keep the fire bright and full of life day in and day out.

LAWLESSNESS AND CRIME IN RUSSIA.

Pillage of Churches, Robbery and Murder Abound.

Thousands Without Work Begging for Bread.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 23.—Lawlessness and crime are keeping pace in Russia with the repressive measures of the government. The record of a single day shows the distracted state of the country.

At Tamboff, Riga, Warsaw, Batoum, Mittau and Chita yesterday military executions took place while from a half dozen other cities come reports of death sentences passed by military courts on political prisoners.

From Stavropol and Kuban provinces in the Caucasus come reports of the pillage of churches and the theft of sacred jewel-encrusted relics. Near Samara robbers held up a mail coach and carried off $10,000 in booty, and at Orenburg an armed band plundered the state distillery and several pharmacies.

An attempt was made at Kletzdavsk, Poland, to assassinate the chief of police.

Armed men at Ekaterinoslav, south Russia, entered the counting room of a merchant, intimidated the clerks and got off with $1,000.

At Smolensk an infernal machine was thrown through a window into an assembly of nobles, and in Sebastopol eight masked men entered a store, bound the proprietor and employes and escaped with the contents of the till.

The spirit of lawlessness has also penetrated north, which part of the country is still snow-bound.

The peasants of the northern Vologda province on the road to Archangel are driving off the proprietors. They fought a battle near Yarensk with a detachment of 120 Cossacks, were defeated, and left a number of dead on the field. On the other hand, near Bioselsk, in Novgorod province, the peasants were victorious in a fight with the Cossacks.

At Lodz, 3,000 men are locked out, and in all the principal cities hundreds, if not thousands, of men are without work, and are walking the streets, begging for food.

RUSSIAN EDITOR ARRESTED.

Appeal Against His Sentence Rejected by the Czar.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 23.—Alexis Alexieyitch Souvarin, editor of the Russ, was arrested last night as the result of the rejection by Emperor Nicholas of his appeal against the sentence of one year's imprisonment in a fortress, imposed upon him January 20 last for publishing in December, 1905, a seditious proclamation, including the manifesto of the workmen's council, announcing that the government had declared civil war on the proletariat, and saying that the challenge must be accepted.

DELEGATES TO MEET MONDAY.

Algeciras Conference Will Hold No Session Saturday.

ALGECIRAS, Spain, March 23.—The next meeting of the Moroccan conference was today postponed from Saturday until Monday next, owing to the continued indisposition of Herr Von Radowitz and the fact that the other German delegates are not ready to proceed. It is said that the American suggestion regarding a mixed police force will not be pressed.

MISDESCRIBE THE SHIPMENTS DAILY

New York Merchants Accused of Underbilling.

Hearing Before Interstate Commerce Commission.

NEW YORK, March 23.—The interstate commerce commission began an important hearing today on the reported underbilling and misrepresentation of freight by shippers in New York and other eastern points. Chairman Martin A. Knapp and Commissioners J. C. Clements and C. A. Prouty were present when the hearing began.

P. F. Farrell, the attorney for the commission, conducted the inquiry. He called as the first witness Robert G. Stevenson, a general inspector of the Trunk Line Association in the territory of New York, Connecticut and Massachusetts, as well as the cities of Baltimore and Philadelphia. Mr. Stevenson enumerated the various inspection bureaus at the different cities throughout the territory under his jurisdiction. There are 40 inspectors in New York. He said that they inspect both local and through freight, local being to points east of the trunk line terminal and the through freight as freight designed from the trunk line terminal. The trunk line roads, he said, include the New York Central, West Shore, Baltimore & Ohio, Lehigh Valley, Pennsylvania, Central Railroad of New Jersey, Ontario & Western, Erie & Lackawanna.

Mr. Stevenson testified that March 16 the inspectors made 1,000 corrections of underbilling in shipments from New York. The corrections were in both weight and classifications, but especially in the latter and applied only to shipments in less than carload lots.

D. Spiro, he said, billed a large consignment of artificial flowers as millinery in order to secure a lower freight rate. Millinery, he said, was first class freight, while artificial flowers were double first-class. The firm, the witness said, is familiar with the classification, but persisted in billing artificial flowers wrong. Some firms, he declared, misdescribed their shipments almost daily, requiring constant vigilance by the inspectors.

Vantine & Co., Mr. Stevenson said, persistently misdescribed their shipments. He mentioned an instance in which he said the firm shipped cusalons, which are double first-class freight, as Japanese goods, though there is no classification as that. Human hair, including Chinese queues, was frequently shipped as horsehair, the shippers contending that it was as tough as horsehair and ought to be so classified.

Mr. Stevenson said that the misdescribed shipments from New York, York, which included the New Jersey and Brooklyn water front, averaged 1,000 a day.

DECLARED IN DEFAULT.

Standard Oil Officials Fail to Appear at Hearing.

NEW YORK, March 23.—Harry Tilford and J. C. Arnold, of the Standard Oil Company, were declared in default when they failed to appear today before Commissioner Frederick H. Sanborn in the action brought by Attorney General Herbert S. Hadley of Missouri to oust from Missouri the Standard Oil Company of Indiana and companies alleged to be controlled by it. When the commissioner appeared to resume the hearing today counsel for the Standard Oil Company and Mr. Hadley announced that a stipulation has been signed between Mr. Hadley and counsel for the Standard Oil interests, providing for a resumption of the hearing tomorrow. They said, however, that as Mr. Hadley would be in the city in time to go on with the hearing this afternoon it could be resumed then. Counsel representing Mr. Hadley said that since the previous hearing concluded subpoenas had been served on Mr. Tilford and Mr. Arnold, but they were not present and asked that their default be noted. The Standard Oil counsel declared that their absence was due to the stipulation postponing the hearing. Commissioner Sanborn ruled that this did not excuse them, and declared them in default.

AGAINST JEROME'S OPINION.

Justice O'Sullivan Says Insurance Men Committed Larceny.

NEW YORK, March 23.—The officers of life insurance companies who contributed a portion of the companies' funds to political campaign committees committed larceny is the opinion of Justice O'Sullivan of the court of general sessions. Justice O'Sullivan expressed his opinion in court today, in replying to the presentment submitted to him by the grand jury, which is investigating some of the phases of the insurance business which were developed by the legislative investigating committee. He held that larceny was committed by the officers who authorized such contributions, and charged the jury to investigate as to the responsibility for such crimes.

This opinion is directly opposite to the one on the same subject which was submitted to Justice O'Sullivan by District Attorney Jerome several days ago.

Replying to Judge O'Sullivan, District Attorney Jerome reiterated his opinion that the acts of the investigated insurance officials did not constitute larceny, and told the court that if he maintained his contrary opinion, then it was the duty of the grand jury to seek cause for indictments against George W. Perkins, former vice president of the New York Life Insurance Company, who admitted giving political contributions, for larceny; and against George B. Cortelyou, chairman, and Cornelius N. Bliss, treasurer, of the Republican national committee as receivers of stolen goods.

District Attorney Jerome said, addressing the court: "If your honor will sit as a magistrate in this case I will submit affidavits as to the acts committed by George W. Perkins and will ask the warrant for his arrest. A writ of habeas corpus will follow, and the case will be taken to the highest court, where I will retain Alton B. Parker as special counsel."

Judge O'Sullivan refused to grant the warrant."

OPPOSITION WAS NOT VERY STRONG

Providence Police Commission Act Amended.

Majority Nearly Killed It by a Blunder.

[Special despatch to the News.]

PROVIDENCE, March 23.—The house was occupied today entirely with the consideration of the amendment to the Providence Police Commission act, placing the power of appointment in the hands of the mayor and board of aldermen. There was a long discussion, but the opposition was not so strong as was anticipated. The majority came near killing the bill themselves, and actually did so by passing a vote of indefinite postponement of an amendment, but discovered the mistake and reconsidered the vote, thus saving the bill before the minority realized what had been done.

The senate passed the act repealing the special legislation for New Shoreham allowing the town council to elect supervisors. The bill was hurried to the house, where the judiciary committee considered it while the house was in session, reported it and had it placed on the calendar.

The senate also passed the act forbidding the leasing of certain oyster beds in the Seaconnet river, near Tiverton, which was on the calendar.

From the calendar was taken the resolution making an appropriation of $7,500 for the commissioners of inland fisheries, and it was sent back to the finance committee.

The finance committee reported the resolution appropriating $5,000 for representation of the state at official functions, and it was placed on the calendar.

The senate adjourned early, to allow the members to hear the debate in the house.

SENATE CONFEREES NAMED.

To Meet Those of House of Representatives on Statehood Bill.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—When the Senate convened today, Mr. Beveridge renewed his motion, authorizing the appointment of conferees on the part of the Senate to meet conferees of the House of Representatives on the statehood bill, and Mr. Foraker withdrew his amendment requiring the submission of the question of selecting conferees to the Senate. Mr. Foraker said that he had received assurances from Mr. Beveridge that the conferees to be suggested by him as chairman of the committee on territories would support the Senate's position regardless of the fact that they had originally supported the House bill.

Mr. Beveridge continued. Mr. Foraker's statement, and Mr. Lodge expressed the opinion that the Senate should always be represented in its conferences by members designated by the committee having in charge the question in controversy, assuming that the conferees will always sustain the Senate rather than press their own views.

The motion to insist upon the Senate's amendments was then adopted, and Messrs. Beveridge, Dillingham and Patterson were designated by the chair as Senate conferees, the selection being made by Mr. Beveridge.

Mr. Culberson's resolution calling upon the War Department for further information relative to the Mount Dajo battle was adopted without discussion.

The railroad rate bill was then laid before the Senate and Mr. Spooner continued his speech on that measure.

Mr. Spooner conceded that the circuit and district courts are statutory courts whose jurisdiction is limited by the statutes creating them, but he contended that there is a vast difference between jurisdiction and judicial power. "When jurisdiction is once given over a subject matter," he said, "the judicial power of the constitution goes with it and it is not any longer competent for Congress to interfere with the hearing or the determination of the case."

JOINT CONFERENCE FUTILE.

Robbins-Mitchell Compromise Defeated by Western Operators.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 23.—The breach between the Ohio, Indiana and Illinois operators on one side and the western Pennsylvania operators and miners on the other now seems irreparable, and unless something unforeseen and unprovided for at this time occurs there will be a strike in the soft coal fields, followed, doubtless, by a strike in the anthracite fields.

The miners' and operators' joint scale committee was in session the entire day and proposition after proposition was made and voted down or rather failed to carry because unanimous consent could not be secured. The western Pennsylvania operators, headed by Francis L. Robbins, stood squarely with the miners on nearly every proposition which they advanced, and the operators of Indiana, Ohio and Illinois stood as firmly against it, and thus every question was lost because of the failure to get unanimous vote from the two sides.

Late this afternoon the miners apparently played their last card, when they proposed that the scale of 1903, the one in force before the reduction of 5 per cent was made, be adopted and that it be made to continue for 19 years. This motion carried with it not only the scale of wages then in force but all the working conditions about the mines, and was what President Mitchell and President Robbins of the Pittsburg Coal Company had agreed upon before the miners and operators were asked to meet again in conference.

The operators were not surprised at the concessions made by the miners, but were evidently prepared for it. Before entering the joint conference the operators of Indiana, Illinois and Ohio had held a little caucus of their own and had decided that they would not accept anything but the present mining scale. In other words, they separated themselves from the western Pennsylvania operators and determined that the Robbins-Mitchell compromise, as it has become known, should be rejected when offered. They were, therefore, prepared to vote upon it, and 12 votes were cast against the proposition, and the miners' 16 and the western Pennsylvania's operators' four votes were cast for it. Not being unanimous, the motion failed.

EXPLOSION OF GAS IN MINE.

Ten Bodies Found, 25 Men Injured and Many Missing.

FAIRMONT, W. Va., March 22.—Ten men are known to be dead, 25 injured and from 25 to 45 are missing and believed to be dead as the result of an explosion of gas in the shaft of the Century Coal Company at Century, a small mining town 50 miles south of Fairmont, on the Dellington & Buckhannon branch of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad. The explosion took place at 1:30 this afternoon, but owing to the fact that the telephone wires are down details are lacking.

The Century Mine, which is owned by Shaw Brothers of Baltimore, is one of the largest independent operations in northern West Virginia. Over 250 men are employed daily in the shaft, and had the explosion been an hour earlier the loss of life would have been appalling. As it was, there were comparatively few remaining in the shaft, the main body of miners having quit work for the day.

The giant fan which furnishes air for the shaft was partly wrecked, but was repaired immediately, and an hour after the accident Superintendent James Ward had a relief gang in the workings. The first trip out brought 10 men, five dead and five badly burned. They were found in the main heading, near the bottom of the shaft.

The dying could give no details of the explosion, saying that they were on their way to the surface when the accident occurred. A second exploring expedition explored the main heading, which was found to be only slightly damaged.

Four more bodies were found in this heading, and 20 injured men were making their way toward the bottom of the shaft. When they were brought to the surface by the rescuers, fourteen sub headings at raidnigh were yet unexplored owing to the prevalence of gas. However, the mine was being freed rapidly from the fumes by the fan, and the work of rescue will be pushed throughout the night.

Immediately following the explosion the officials began a house-to-house canvass to ascertain the number of men on the surface. This resulted in 580 miners being found who had come out before the explosion. It is believed that there are many more outside who have not yet been accounted for. If this is not true there are still 75 men in the mine, with little hope of their being alive.

OPPOSE UNION LABEL.

Boston Printers Seek to Stop Its Use on City Printing.

BOSTON, March 22.—Seeking to prevent the use of the union label on all matter printed at the municipal printing plant, several master printers of Boston today filed in the supreme court a petition for a writ of mandamus. The proceeding is directed against the city of Boston and Thomas A. Whalen, superintendent of the city printing plant.

The petitioners allege that the city plant is conducted as a union shop, and that all tax bills, water bills and other city documents bear the union label, the use of which label is permitted by an ordinance which they assert is invalid.

The petitioners also contend that the expenditures of money to maintain the plant as it is now conducted are an abuse of corporate powers and unlawful. The imprint of the union label on city printing is also repugnant and obnoxious to citizens not affiliated with unions or in sympathy with them, according to statements of the petitioners.

Application for an order of notice will be made later.

LONG TERM FOR ABDUCTION.

Negro Who Kept White Woman Prisoner is Convicted.

NEW YORK, March 22.—"Bob" Spriggs, the negro divekeeper, was convicted before Judge Cowing in General Sessions today of abduction. As he was indicted for a second offence, he may get 20 years in Sing Sing, and it is not unlikely that he will get the maximum punishment.

It took the jury 10 minutes to convict him. It was after he had gone on the witness stand and denied everything that Hattie Warren had said of how he had beaten her and held her prisoner in his house in Cornelia street. When Spriggs's counsel was making his opening address for him, the negro made a pretence of crying. But when the verdict was brought in, he glared at the foreman of the jury. He has been something of a political power, having been a member of the Colored Democracy, and he also had influence with the police.

SUNDAY IN THE DISTRICT.

Congressmen Trying to Hold Down Lid in Washington.

Warren and Lodge on Good English—Merry-Go-Round Man Wants Permit to Carry a Gun.

(Washington correspondence of the News.)

WASHINGTON, March 22.—The District of Columbia is a field for Congressional missionary work. Just now a number of Congressmen think that they can enforce in Washington what they do not find feasible in their own states—prohibition and Sunday observance. It is proposed by some to prevent all kinds of labor on the Sabbath. That would mean the stopping of all trains, telegraphs, telephones, mails, street cars and, in fact, everything that means the employment of labor. The bill will not go through because there are enough practical men in Congress to recognize that to stop everything on Sunday in the District while the same action is not taken in the states would be a humbug of the first magnitude. The same might be said as to prohibition. It would be absurd to put a little block ten miles square under prohibition as long as liquor is sold in nearly every state in the Union. The attempts at this kind of reform legislation make talk, but is never taken seriously.

One of the great engineers of the country was telling what he knew about dams in connection with the Panama canal, and some reference was made to the dam that is being built in South Dakota in connection with an irrigation project.

"The foundation of that dam is clay," said the engineer.

"I think you are mistaken," remarked Senator Kittredge of South Dakota, "for that foundation is rock."

"Oh, no," said the engineer, shrilly; "the foundation is clay."

Forthwith he produced some drawings to show that it was clay. Kittredge left the committee room and after a short time returned and remarked:

"I have just telephoned the director of the geological survey who has charge of all irrigation projects, and he informs me that there is a rock foundation for the dam in South Dakota."

Senator Warren of Wyoming was trying to get through a bill extending from 28 to 36 hours the time in which cattle may be confined in cars. Senator Lodge of Massachusetts was making inquiries which indicated his distrust of the measure and resulted in some rather sharp remarks and responses between the Senators. Lodge read a portion of the bill and said, "That may be clear to the informed mind, but to the non-expert mind, like mine, I confess the English seems to be confused."

"Perhaps," said Warren. "The English is not as clear cut as the Senator from Massachusetts could suggest. The framers of the bill did not have the advantage of that Senator's knowledge and experience at the time the bill was framed."

"I have no doubt it would have helped," said Lodge.

"I think it would undoubtedly," said Warren with sarcasm.

"I have no doubt the stockmen understand it perfectly," answered Mr. Lodge. This thrust was for Warren personally, who is a stockman.

A little later Senator Lodge was again criticising the bill. "It is perfectly blind writing," he said. "I dare say to the expert mind it may be good English, but after all, this bill is for all persons as well as live stock men."

"The bill," said Warren, "seems to have put the Senator from Massachusetts in an inquiring frame of mind."

"It has," said Lodge. "I think the whole bill suggests inquiry."

"All bills do to those who oppose them," said Warren shortly.

Then the debate took a more amicable turn.

A very prominent member of the House from New York state received the following from one of his constituents, who evidently thinks that a Congress is all powerful:

Dear Sir—I write to see if you could give me a permit to carry a weapon as I travel with a merry-go-round in the summer and we have some pretty tough crowds to deal with so you will oblige. I remain yours Truly.

The House had been for days considering the legislative appropriation bill, and most of the speeches had been on subjects foreign to the bill. Then Representative Littlefield took the floor.

"The House will pardon me," said the Maine man, "if I should occupy some of the time allotted to me to a discussion of the bill under consideration."

The day after Representative Lacey of Iowa had made a speech on the tariff and said that Henry Clay was a stand patter, Representative Gaines of Tennessee made a reply. Representative Lawrence of Massachusetts came into the House while Gaines was speaking and asked, "What is going on there?"

"Gaines is denouncing Lacey for saying Henry Clay was a stand patter," was the reply.

"Well, the punishment fits the crime," quoted Lawrence from "The Mikado."

DENIES HAMILTON'S CHARGES.

New York Life Investigating Committee Makes Formal Reply.

NEW YORK, March 22.—The New York Life's self-investigating committee, in a letter to Andrew Hamilton made public tonight, formally answers the charges which the former legislative agent has made against it. The investigators deny that the auditing committee of the board of trustees ever knew the purposes to which the Hamilton payments were put or that they were cognizant of the secret service duties which he performed. They declare that there is not the slightest foundation for Hamilton's statement that records and documents have been ignored by the committee to give a false color to transactions in which he has been concerned. The committee discloses the efforts which it made to get Hamilton to return, and intimates that he avoided the committee's agents.

The committee says in beginning that it waited a reasonable time for Hamilton to reply to its investigation to appear before it, and that when no answer came to the committee's letter it withdrew its request that the suit against Hamilton should be deferred.

A letter which former President John A. McCall wrote on the day before his death, in which he stated the conditions under which he employed Andrew Hamilton as legislative agent of that company, was made public today. It was directed to Alexander E. Orr, president of the New York Life Insurance Company, and dated February 16 last. It was written at a moment when Mr. McCall evidently realized that he could not live, and defends himself from the charge of making an improper arrangement with Hamilton.

NO MYSTERY!
There is no mystery in good paint making. It's only "cheap" and inferior paint that surrounds itself with secrecy and mystery.
The SHERWIN-WILLAMS PAINT
Is not a "patent" or "chemical" paint. There's no secret or mystery about it. Its a pure lead, pure zinc and pure linseed oil paint. It's better than other paints made from the same materials, because the methods and manufacturing facilities of its makers are better—not because they have any patent or secret scheme. It is known all over the world as the best paint that can be bought. Insist on having it used on your house, thereby giving it the best paint protection.

AGRICULTURISTS TO MEET.

League of Societies for Rural Progress to Hold Its Third Annual Meeting in Providence.

The League of Societies for Rural Progress, which includes in its membership the State Board of Agriculture, Rhode Island College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts, Washington County Agricultural Society, Newport County Agricultural Society, Rhode Island Horticultural Society, Newport Horticultural Society, Rhode Island Poultry Association, Rhode Island League of Improvement Societies, Providence Florists' and Gardeners' Club, Kingston Improvement Association, State Grange, State Federation of Churches and State Association of School Superintendents, has in the past held several interesting and instructive conferences on "Rural Progress." The third annual conference will open in Manning Hall, Brown University, Tuesday, April 10, and continue the follow day at East Greenwich. A lengthy and varied program has been arranged, which is certain to appeal to every one interested, directly or indirectly, in agricultural pursuits of whatever nature. The list of subjects and speakers is announced as follows:

"Potato Spraying and Diseases," by A. E. Stene, superintendent of college work, Kingston; "Poultry Keeping," by C. K. Graham, instructor in poultry keeping, Connecticut Agricultural College; "The City Milk Supply," by Dr. Austin Peters, chief of cattle bureau, Massachusetts board of agriculture. It is also hoped that A. H. Kirkland of Boston, Mass., superintendent of suppressing the gypsy and brown-tail moths, will give a talk on that subject. In the evening there will be an illustrated lecture on "Awakening of Harrisburg," by J. Horace McFarland, president of American Civic Association. Mr. McFarland is said to have some beautiful slides, and is a well-known speaker on civic improvements.

The second day of the conference will be held at East Greenwich Wednesday, April 11, at which the forenoon session will be given up to a meeting of the newly organized Rhode Island League of Improvement Societies, when it is hoped that Gifford Pinchot, chief of the Forestry Bureau at Washington, will be present. There will be lectures by George Frederick Wells of Madison, N. J., on "The New England Country Church Questions;" by D. Hemenway, director of the Hartford school gardens, on "The School Garden," and by Commissioner of Public Schools of Rhode Island W. E. Ranger on "Rural Schools." At the afternoon session there will also be an address by His Excellency Governor George H. Utter.

MIDDLETOWN.

[Regular correspondence of the News.]

At the regular meeting of Aquidneck Grange, last evening at the town hall, applications for eleven new members were received and six names voted upon. As a class of five has already received the first two degrees this will make a total of 22 to receive the third and fourth degrees, the largest number to enter at one time which Aquidneck Grange has ever received. If the present interest continues, this promises to be a banner year for this organization.

A communication from Kenyon L. Butterfield, president of Kingston College, in regard to the third Annual Congress on Rural Progress, to be held in Providence Tuesday, April 10, and at East Greenwich Wednesday, April 11, resulted in the appointment of the following delegates from Aquidneck Grange: Worthy Master Howard R. Peckham, Charles H. Ward, James Anthony, J. Overton Peckham, Percy T. Bailey.

The proposition for this Grange to hold a fair was favorably received and a committee will be appointed at the next meeting.

Owing to the initiation to be given at the next meeting, April 12, "charter members' night," scheduled for that date, will be postponed.

It was voted to offer the electors the use of the Grange kitchen on town meeting day.

At the close of the business session the social hour was devoted to progressive whist, eight tables being filled, and the prizes being awarded as follows: First, Mrs. George E. Ward, a handsome case; and Mr. Arthur L. Peckham, a bronze ash tray; consolation, Mrs. B. W. H. Peckham, glass vase, and Mr. Harry Sherman, china match receiver. Light refreshments were served.

Miss Sarah L. Peckham, who has been at the Newport Hospital for the past two weeks, returned to her home yesterday. Miss Elizabeth P. Anthony, who is at the hospital, is reported as progressing favorably.

The reading, "The Making of an English Bishop," by Anthony Hope, was begun yesterday at the meeting of St. Columba's Guild at the home of Mrs. Edward J. Peckham, Paradise avenue, and will be continued at each meeting of the guild by Rev. Latta Griswold.

The late Rev. George Edgar Brightman, whose body was carried to Mystic, Conn., Wednesday, was buried in the yard of the church which he attended as a young lad and which he joined at the age of 16. The bearers were from among his boyhood companions and the committal services were conducted by Rev. F. C. Baker, pastor of the church, assisted by neighboring clergymen. Rev. Micah J. Talbot, D. D., one of the officiating clergymen at the Middletown funeral, made the acquaintance of Mr. Brightman when he first became a member of the Mystic church 37 years ago. He was also present and spoke at the Middletown Methodist Episcopal Church when it was first started, so that his presence at the funeral services of Mr. Brightman was of a double significance. Mr. Brightman's Conference obituary will be prepared and presented by an old friend of the family, Rev. John Pearce of Fall River, Mass.

Mr. Antone Francis Madeiros, head farmer for Mr. Joseph A. Peckham, who with his family returned Tuesday from a six months' visit to the Western Islands, buried one child while there and another yesterday, the second having died of pneumonia on their arrival at Ellis Island, New York. Mr. and Mrs. Madeiros lost a little girl some years ago by accidental burning from an outdoor brush fire, and much sympathy has been extended him in his present bereavement. Upon the departure for Vermont, Saturday, of Mr. Joseph Elbridge Parnum, who has been in charge of Mr. Peckham's hothouses for the past two months, Mr. Madeiros will assume the care of the early plants.

St. George's School closed Tuesday for the annual spring vacation of two weeks.

Colored farm hands have begun to arrive from the South and Portuguese in large numbers are seeking to get established for the spring and summer work.

As the students at Brown University are on a week's vacation, Mr. Charles H. Ward, Jr., and Mr. C. LeRoy Grinnell are at home this week on a visit to their parents.

Mr. Nathaniel L. Champlin, Jr., has been confined to the house the past few days by a severe cold.

Mrs. G. E. Brightman and Mr. Edgar S. Brightman are expected home today and will remain at the parsonage until after the Conference. Mr. Abram A. Brown, who accompanied them to Mystic, Conn., has returned.

Miss Elizabeth Anthony is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Anthony.

The children of Mr. Frank T. Peckham are all ill with whooping cough, and in addition have either the chicken pox or the mumps.

PORTSMOUTH.

[Regular correspondence of the News.]

The body of Mr. Arnold Albro Manchester, Jr., aged 31 years, of Providence, was brought here Tuesday, and interred in the family lot in St. Mary's churchyard. He was the son of Arnold and grandson of the late Isaac Manchester, natives of this place, and had a large number of relatives living here. He died of heart trouble, leaving a widow and two children, the eldest being under five years of age.

Mrs. Robert M. Wyatt, who has been ill for some time, is improving.

The Ladies' Association of St. Paul's Church met Thursday afternoon with Mrs. John L. Borden. The attendance was unusually good.

Miss Rita M. Sherman has consented to act as librarian until Miss Kate B. Fish is fully restored to health.

The Ladies' Benevolent Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church met at the parsonage, Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. Fillmore Coggeshall moved to his new house on Oliphant Lane, Middletown, Thursday.

Mr. Perry G. Randall is to build a summer cottage for Mrs. Frank C. Thompson of Cambridge, near the shore on Mr. Isaac B. Macomber's place, which borders on the Seaconnet river.

Mrs. Joseph H. Cross is quite ill, requiring the services of a nurse.

Mr. and Mrs. William M. Hughes entertained Thursday evening in honor of the birthday of Mr. Hughes.

A number of farmers about Bristol Ferry have planted peas and put out onion sets.

The meeting of St. Mary's Guild, at Mrs. L. Lincoln Sherman's, Wednesday, was well attended.

NEW STATE NAVAL EXAMINING BOARD.

A new naval examining board was created by a general order issued from the office of Adjutant General Sackett yesterday. The old naval board of examination, appointed in 1904, is dissolved by the order, which announced the following detail for the newly created body, all from the Rhode Island Naval Battalion: Commander William G. Bliss, Lieutenant Commander Charles N. Lawton, Lieutenant Edward P. Gladding, navigator; Lieutenant Charles E. Lawton, commanding the second division, of this city, and Lieutenant S. Howland Pitman, commanding the Third division.

STORY OF THE GERMAN CROWN PRINCE.

The German papers are telling a story of the German Crown Prince. The Kaiser's heir had occasion recently to speak to a street sweeper near the barracks of the riflemen of the guard. "Good morning, sergeant," said the sweeper, who did not recognize the prince. He said that his son was fighting in Southwest Africa, but he hoped soon to have him back safe and sound. The prince, smiling, said, "Why, yes, I hope so, too!" and pressed a five-mark piece into the old man's hand. But the sweeper, looking wistfully at the coin and then at the giver, handed it back, saying, "No, no, sergeant; I doubt you have none too much of that yourself!"

PERSONALS.

....James Rads How, an eccentric St. Louis philanthropist, who refused to accept an inheritance because he said he did not have any right to money he did not earn, is now planning to establish a sanatorium for inebriates and victims of the drug and cigarette habits.

....Eben Appleton of New York has in his possession the famous "Star Spangled Banner" which inspired Key to the writing of the much admired national song. An effort will shortly be made to purchase the house in Baltimore in which this flag was made, and use it as a museum or patriotic shrine.

....Mrs. Roosevelt, accompanied by her sons Archie and Quentin, and her daughter, Miss Ethel, and possibly by her son Kermit, who is at school at Groton, Mass., will leave Washington next week for Florida. At some convenient port there, possibly Fernandina, they will go on board converted yacht Mayflower and make a cruise to the West Indies. They will visit Cuba and Porto Rico, stopping at both Havana and San Juan. It is expected the party will be absent ten days or two weeks.

....One of the busiest men in Virginia is the artist priest, Rev. Johannes A. Oertel of Vienna, Fairfax County, known everywhere as the painter of the world-famous picture, "The Rock of Ages." Although in his eighty-third year, he goes to his studio every morning about dawn and works until twilight. He is just sending off to Sewanee, Tenn., an instalment of paintings to be placed over the altar in the chapel now being built for the use of the students of its theological seminary by Mrs. Telfair Hodgson, as a memorial to her husband, Vice Chancellor Hodgson.

....One gets a glimpse of the canny thriftiness of William Wordsworth, the poet of the Lake country, where Harriet Martineau spent the later years of her life, in Morley's review of her life. "It is the wisest step in her life," Wordsworth said, when he heard she had bought a piece of land and built a pretty house upon it; and then he added the strangely unpoetic reason—"because the value of the property will be doubled in ten years." In the same prudent strain the poet warned his new neighbor that she would find visitors a great expense. "When you have a visitor," he said, "you must do as we did; you must say: 'If you like to have a cup of tea with us, you are very welcome; but if you want any meat, you must pay for your board.'"

[Milwaukee Sentinel.]

A winter sky; an angry sea;
A barren, rock-ribbed shore
Where maddened waves moan dismally,
And break with sullen roar.

Night; strained eyes that try to see
Into the starless dark;
A nestling babe; a prayer that He
Will lend a guiding spark.

Dawn; a coast forsaken, bleak;
The scene desolate;
Cold, lifeless lips that cannot speak—
And this—they call it Fate.

No Solos to be Sung or Played in Omaha Catholic Churches.

CHICAGO, March 23.—A despatch to the Tribune from Omaha says that solos, both vocal and instrumental, are to be eliminated from the Roman Catholic churches of the Omaha diocese after May 1, and women are to be dispensed with in choirs. These changes are announced in an Order from Bishop Scannell. In submitting the rule, Bishop Scannell says he has acted on the recommendation of a committee of clergymen, which he appointed some time ago. The organ alone is exempted from the inhibition against the instrumental solos. Congregational singing, both for children and adults, is recommended.

The Pure Food Roll of Honor.

"Good Housekeeping," a well known household national magazine, voluntarily made a thorough examination and test of None-Such Mince Meat, and placed it without reservation upon its roll of honor.

In the March number of Good Housekeeping, in the department of "Pure Food Adventures," we read:

"None-Such Mince Meat, Merrill-Soule Co., Syracuse, a semi-moist condensed compound of beef, apples, cream, sugar, raisins, currants, boiled cider, salt, but without other preservatives or additives, is a delicious product, produced under conditions as near to sanitary perfection as possible."

This guarantee which could not be bought at any price, ought to satisfy the most particular housewife. The sale of one million packages a month seems to prove the statement to be true. You can prove the statement for yourself. Try it, and satisfy yourself. You are the one.

TEN PAGES.

AGAINST BAD MEAT.

The authorities of this state, especially of Providence, which naturally suffers most from the matter, are stirred up over the importation of bad meat from Massachusetts and are seeking ways of stopping the action. To this end appeal has been made to the government, because the laws in this state are inadequate to protect it from such an invasion, and a bill has been introduced in the legislature to remedy the defects in the present law affecting this matter. If all the reports regarding the introduction of bad beef from outside the state are correct, there is need of action of this sort in both the directions in which it was been taken and the movement ought to be pressed to a speedy consummation.

This is a sort of food adulteration which appeals to every one. No one wants to eat bad meat even if it is converted into such a form as to be unrecognizable, and the revolt against the practice of shipping the stuff into this state is natural and worthy of encouragement. It is to be hoped that the government will give the immediate relief needed and that the legislature will pass some measure which will afford ample protection for the future. That body can have no matter of more importance before it during the remaining days of its session and should give the subject early attention and action.

THE FIGHT FOR THE FALLS.

One New York senator has become tired of making the fight to save Niagara Falls. He says he has been rebuffed and attacked because of his interest in the bill to protect the falls, and does not propose to expose himself to such conditions longer. For that reason he has withdrawn his bill relating to the subject, declaring that he cannot find any sentiment in favor of guarding the falls from destruction.

This would be a somewhat serious indictment of the people of the state of New York if it were entirely true. It may be that this particular senator has experienced apathy on the part of those with whom he has come in contact concerning this movement to protect his wonderful natural attraction of the state, but there are some who favor the act and are anxious for its passage. Indeed, so strong is this feeling in some quarters that the movement in its favor is growing and there is talk of making the measure a national matter, on the ground that the falls belong in a wide and deep sense to the whole country and not to New York alone.

It is gratifying to know that the conditions are not so bad as they are presented by the New York senator. It would be a matter of deep regret if it were true that the American people are indifferent to the fate of Niagara Falls and that there could be found no sentiment in favor of saving them. We are a practical people, but we do appreciate something besides commercial influences and it would be a matter of great concern to hosts of citizens of this great country if it were fully understood that the falls are in serious danger.

But it is undoubtedly correct that the people need to be better informed concerning the situation and the source of peril to this grand scene of natural beauty. The encroachments of the commercial forces have already made themselves felt in their influence upon the falls, and unless they are stopped it is considered certain that the beauty and grandeur of this stupendous fall of water will be seriously impaired, if not wholly spoiled. We cannot afford as a people to lose Niagara, and the idea of making the saving of the falls a national matter is a good one and ought to be carried out, for the falls do indeed belong to the whole country and not merely to one state.

A MILK DISCOVERY.

A Cornell professor claims to have discovered a process by which milk can be reduced to a powder and distributed in that form, so as to require only the addition of water to restore it to its natural state. The process, he says, consists simply in the extraction of the solid from the watery materials. This leaves the solids in the form of powder, and the restoration of the necessary portion of water returns the milk to its natural consistency and quality. The professor has demonstrated the importance of his achievement to the satisfaction of a large chemical company and is enthusiastic over the discovery, claiming that the preparation of milk in this form will eventually reduce the price of the liquid quite materially.

If this process does prove successful and practical it will solve many problems in connection with the preservation of milk, which in its natural state is one of the most quickly perishable of products, and yet is one which it is most essential shall be introduced into the human system only in the purest condition. The preparations now on the market are all unsatisfactory in some features, but the new discovery promises to be all that is required if it bears out its promise. If this professor has really achieved the result he claims he will be hailed as one of the greatest benefactors of his day, for it is not unlikely that he will be the means of saving the lives of hosts of infants now sacrificed by impure milk and worthless substitutes for the genuine article.

TAFT CAN WAIT.

It is just as well that President Roosevelt has decided to wait a while before placing Secretary Taft on the Supreme Court bench. Mr. Taft would doubtless make a capable judge, but he is doing work in his present position which he is said to desire to complete, and which it is well for the country that he is to be permitted to finish. His appointment to a seat on the bench would not be a case of spoiling a good cabinet officer to make a poor judge, but it would be interfering with an important mission to make a judicial officer who is not particularly needed just at this time. The fact is that the country needs Mr. Taft much more now in the office which he is filling than on the bench, and under those circumstances it would be a mistake to move him.

When the important work which he has undertaken in his present capacity has been done it will be time enough to make him a judge, and then the country will benefit by his presence in the Department of Justice, for he has the ability and temperament to make a good record in that important part of the government. The high regard in which he is held all over the country is reflected in the unanimity with which the mention of his name for the Supreme Court is received. It is recognized with practical accord that he is well fitted for the position and his appointment at the proper time will be generally approved.

REDUCING ENGLAND'S ARMY.

Insular governments like those of this country and Great Britain commonly give more heed to the demands of the navy than to those of the army and try to build up the former even at the expense of the latter, and the course is recognized as a wise one. Some surprise is warranted, however, at the action of England in reducing her army in order that more money may be spent upon the navy. Military strength may not be demanded of a nation like Great Britain, but there is need of a considerable fighting force on land, both for use in preventing disturbances and for settling difficulties when they reach the point of redress of wrong. Entire protection from without in time of trouble cannot be given by the naval forces alone, but soldiers are required to look after the safety of the people and property on land.

Just what it is planned to do to supply the lack which would be caused by a reduction of the number of troops has not been made clear, but it is evident that the nation cannot maintain its present prestige if it is to cripple its army. All the fighting ships which can be built cannot entirely patrol and protect the coast line of a country like England, and it is folly to leave it exposed without ample means of protection. England generally knows what she is about and it may yet appear that some substitute is to be supplied for the soldiers who are dismissed from the service, but unless that is done there is a strong belief that she is crippling herself seriously.

The statehood bill has gone to a conference committee and there is a better prospect of the passage of some measure by Congress than for years. It is expected that the result of the conference will be a compromise between the Senate and the House, the former allowing Arizona and New Mexico to remain in the bill, but with the proviso that each territory must individually vote in favor of statehood before the Congressional act goes into force. There is, moreover, little doubt that the two houses will finally agree to make Oklahoma and Indian Territory one state. There has never been any good reason why they should not be given statehood.

Judge Duell of New York, who was much mixed up in the recent Town Topics libel case, has resigned from membership in the New York Bar Association, but still retains his place on the bench of the special sessions court. A petition asking for his removal is to be presented to the appellate court in a few days.

It looks as if the sentiment of Newport were pretty unanimous in favor of the proposed new city charter; at least, no one enters an appearance to oppose the change. The people of Newport are getting together for the good of the community.

WILD ANIMALS BECOMING EXTINCT.

(Indianapolis News.)

Recently published translations from the German writings of C. H. Schillings, the noted African traveler and animal photographer, have been interesting a good many people in this country. Mr. Schillings has an enthusiasm for this sort of scientific investigation that has carried him to daring lengths in the achievement of his purpose. He realizes that the larger animals of Africa—the elephant, the lion, the giraffe, etc.—are rapidly becoming extinct; that in a few more generations the world will know them only as it now knows the dodo; and for this reason he has undertaken to make an accurate and scientific record of their existence in their native habitat. To do this he has gone into the wildest parts of the dark continent and photographed these animals in their wild state.

And yet, with all his scientific enthusiasm, it seems that Mr. Schillings could not always resist the temptation to take a shot at these unsuspecting beasts, which were unknowingly exposed to him in his covert. On one occasion he even killed four lions in one day. This, we are afraid, was killing for the mere sake of killing—which is the slaughter that is now making extinct some of nature's most remarkable productions. With its economical uselessness, it is likely that the elephant will, in the course of time, take the status of the camel in the orient, and never become extinct. But the others are doomed. The giraffe are almost gone. The rhinoceros and the "river horse" are becoming rare, and lions grow scarcer year by year. And this is largely because of the killing for "sport." Some of these animals, to be sure, are dangerous, but Africa is a large place. Under fair and undisturbed conditions they live to themselves and injure no one.

What the purpose of the existence of all these animals is we may not know, but in the economy of nature it is reasonable to assume that there is some purpose. And from this point of view their slaughter is lamentable. In the course of long enough time no doubt they will become extinct through the mere changing of conditions. As the settlements of men encroach more and more on their native fastnesses they will deteriorate and lessen in numbers like our Indians. But in such a continent as Africa these conditions are a long way off. Meantime is it not worth while to give the animals—the real African autocrats—a chance to live what is probably their allotted time on earth in such peace as their good behavior will permit. The same arguments can be made in favor of the bears and bobcats of our own western states. The slaughter of the buffalo should teach us some valuable lessons.

PLOUGHING FIVE-MILE FURROWS

(World's Work.)

It gives one a vision of farming on the largest scale to see nine five-mule teams move down the long rows of a 2,650-acre field, turning three furrows apiece of the rich red earth. When the hay is ready to cut, 20 machines mow the thousands of acres of grass and the 500 acres of alfalfa. In some places they go five miles before they turn to come back. Ten thousand tons a year is the crop. Forty-two reapers and binders garner the wheat and it takes five busy steam thrashers to thrash it. Binding twine is bought by the carload—$3,000 worth at a time. Last year was a poor one for wheat throughout Oklahoma. The Millers' 8,000 acres produced only 150,000 bushels. Yet so careful are their methods of planting and cultivating that they sold all but 20,000 bushels of this for seed wheat at 95 cents a bushel. The average yield of corn in Oklahoma is 25 bushels to the acre. The Millers' 3,000 acres of corn produced 50 bushels to the acre.

The wheat and the best of corn are sold at a high price for seed. The hay, the alfalfa, the oats and the rest of the corn are fed to the stock. Corn is put into automatic feeding racks, and the hay and the alfalfa are piled in stacks on the rolling pastures, and the heifers, the mules and the hogs are permitted to eat as much as they wish.

In addition to this the stock are turned into the alfalfa fields between the five cuttings and they are grazed also on the growing wheat. What they manage to consume merely thins the growth down to the proper luxuriance. Last year carloads of melons were shipped from the 1,200-acer melon patch, some to be marketed and some to be crushed for the seeds. The late Mr. Miller used to keep a sign in the patch which read: "$5 fine for any one who goes through this patch without taking a melon."

State Prohibitionists Planning for Conference and Banquet.

Bill for the Protection of Quahaugs—Call to Central Falls Church Accepted.

The Prohibitionists of this state are actively engaged in arranging for a conference and banquet in Providence next week Friday, which is expected to surpass any previous gathering of the kind ever held there in connection with the temperance movement. The recent visit to Providence of Clinton N. Howard of Rochester, N. Y., has aroused much enthusiasm among the temperance advocates, and added interest is being manifested in the proposed conference. Arrangements are being made to call a conference of the clergymen of Providence and vicinity to consider the question of the saloon and its evils as confronting the church. Rev. E. L. Eaton, D. D., of Chicago, superintendent of the Ministerial Prohibition Alliance movement, will lead. In the evening a Prohibition banquet will be held, at which Dr. Eaton will be the principal speaker.

Owing to the threatened extermination of the quahaug by the great demand for "little necks," as the very small quahaugs eaten on the half shell are called, a bill for their protection was introduced in the house of representatives yesterday. Hundreds of bushels of these little shell fish of sizes ranging from a nickle to a dollar have been shipped to Boston, Newport and New York to tickle the palates of epicures, and consequently there has been a lack of the big quahaugs or round clams, from which most of Rhode Island's clam chowders are made. Mr. Holden of Providence introduced the bill, which provides as follows: "Every person who takes or has in his or her possession any quahaugs less than 1¾ inches in diameter, taken from any of the waters of this state, shall be fined $5 for each and every bushel or fraction thereof; but a person taking any quahaugs less than 1¾ inches in diameter from any of the waters of this state and immediately returning them unmutilated to the water from which they were taken shall not be subject to such fine." The little necks bring much higher prices than the big quahaugs and are frequently worth a cent apiece.

Rev. William D. Barr, who has been pastor of the United Presbyterian Church of Quincy, Mass., for the past four years, has accepted the call recently extended by the First Presbyterian Church of Central Falls. As soon as the permission of the Boston Presbytery, which will convene April 10, shall have been obtained, Mr. Barr's resignation will be presented to the Quincy church, and he plans to take charge at Central Falls April 22. Rev. Mr. Barr was born November 11, 1851, near McAlevy's Fort, Pa. He was licensed to preach by the Big Spring Presbytery in April, 1878, and was ordained and installed by the Butler Presbytery June 10, 1879, as pastor of the Springfield, Ohio, United Presbyterian congregation. Since then he has been pastor at New Brighton, N. Y., Zenia, Ohio, Los Angeles, Cal., Middletown, Ohio, and Hoboken, N. J. At Central Falls, Rev. Mr. Barr will succeed Rev. E. M. McFadden, who resigned last fall to accept a pastorate in Dumbarton, Scotland.

Three workmen on the new Journal office addition in Providence fell from the staging at the extreme top of the roof yesterday, two of them managing to hold to the staging at the next floor, but one of them, Joseph Lewis, being precipitated to the cellar. The men were at work on the staging at the top of the roof. Suddenly the platform tipped, and the three without warning were dropped backward. Two of them, John Gilles and Thomas Enos, felt to the boards at the level of the next floor, a distance of possibly six or seven feet, landing close to the side of the building. Here they managed to cling until their companions could rescue them from their perilous position. Lewis, the third man, fell further out and struck near the edge of the staging on a single board. His weight proved too heavy for this and it gave way, allowing him to fall the remaining 27 feet to the ground. It happened that there was a hole not more than four feet wide by six feet long leading into the cellar. In some way that seems nothing short of a miracle, Lewis fell through it head first, just missing striking on an iron girder which protected across the opening. He struck on the hard snow packed on the cellar bottom, and there the other workmen found him. All three men were carried to the office and an ambulance was summoned from the Rhode Island Hospital. Examination of Lewis, who fell farthest and was apparently the most badly injured of the three, disclosed the fact that he had no bones broken and, except for a severe shaking up, was apparently unhurt. Gilles complained of pains in his side, and an examination brought out the fact that he had suffered a broken rib.

Lying helplessly in bed, where she had been confined for the past two weeks by a severe attack of pneumonia, Annette Jones, the 18-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Jones of Providence, was startled yesterday by the sound of a suspicious crackling in the chimney at the head of her bed. She made heroic efforts to attract the attention of her mother, who was in an adjoining room, but by the time the latter realized the situation flames were breaking through the light partition and the rooms were rapidly filling with smoke. Mrs. Jones's cries summoned several of the neighbors, two of whom, Mrs. James King and Mrs. F. Knowles, hastily wrapped the sick girl in blankets and taking her in their arms carried her to the cottage of Mrs. King, which was next to the Jones residence. In the meanwhile an alarm had been sent in, to which the firemen quickly responded. Much difficulty was experienced in reaching the burning house, which was a story and a half cottage with an ell. When the firemen arrived the building was all in flames, the parlor and sitting room being completely enveloped. Quick work was done by the department, but not until the interior of the cottage was badly wrecked. The loss on the contents is practically complete but it is understood that there is a small insurance thereon. The house was badly damaged, and it is estimated that the loss will be about $1,500. The house is owned by Mrs. Ruell, on which there is insurance.

A Warren and Bristol Suburban car jumped the track at the Barrington Centre switch late yesterday afternoon, and W. A. Harris, who is night foreman at the Barrington power house and was riding in the big car, was seriously injured. Mr. Harris was standing near the open door on the right side of the vestibule, and when the car left the rails it gave a sudden turn, and he was thrown from the car in such a manner that his right foot and left arm were injured. An examination of the man's injuries showed that no bones were broken, but the wounds bled profusely and it required several stitches to close them. While several of the passengers were shaken up, none of the others were injured. It is supposed that the accident was caused by the spreading of the rails, and no blame is attached to the motorman. The wrecking car was sent for and the derailed car was put back on the rails after about a half-hour's delay to traffic.

Senorita Carolina Marcial of Madrid was guest Monday of Miss Edith Edwards of Woonsocket. The latter accompanied her to Kingston College yesterday, where she gave an address before the students. This young Spanish woman is a graduate of the International Institute for Girls in Spain, founded by Mrs. Alice Gordon Gulick of Mount Holyoke College. Miss Marcial comes to this state under the direction of the Rhode Island committee of the International Institute League, composed of college women working in the interest of this American college for girls in Madrid. The visit is of interest to many in Providence who have been contributors to this work for three years. Among the members are the women high school teachers, Mrs. Anna Wilkinson Rathbun, Mrs. Edgar L. Spaulding, Miss Edwards, the S. O. N. G. and many others who have assisted in sending $100 from this state to carry on the work in Spain. When Senorita Marcial spoke at Pembroke College in February the girls pledged $50 toward the institute for the coming year.

MUSICAL MUSIC.

Selections by a High Grade of Composers, Well Sung.

A Good Concert, by a Good Club (the Euterpe), for a Good Object.

College men of former days used to sing something about the "Dutch Company" being "the best company," etc. That was before the Euterpe Club and Companies T and W of the Young Men's Christian Association Women's Auxiliary were started. In these days the people of Newport would contradict such a sentiment.

Of course this is said just now because the Euterpe Club gave a concert last evening, under the auspices of Companies T and W, for the benefit of the Young Men's Christian Association building fund. It was a large audience which was packed into Masonic hall and presumably Companies T and W are happy over the success of the entertainment, artistically as well as financially. The club was assisted by Miss Lillian E. Maher, reader, and Mr. John T. Greene, violinist, while Mr. Victor Baxter did good work as accompanist in such numbers as called for the piano. The hall was prettily draped throughout, and the stage was trimmed with red and adorned with palms and graceful gilded chairs, the stage furnishings being loaned by J. W. Horton & Co. and the piano by J. H. Barney & Co.

The club was short two of its principal singers, Nelson R. Daby and James F. Marden, Jr., and therefore was obliged to give a program somewhat different from that which had been contemplated. The other members gave an excellent account of themselves. If there was anybody there who didn't know it, he soon found out that the club is a good one. The members present were Dr. H. H. Luther, Mr. Harry Martland, Mr. Benjamin G. Oman, Mr. H. Augustus Swan, Mr. Harry W. Scoville, Mr. M. W. Basford, Mr. Frank P. King and Mr. Daniel U. Boone. Mr William R. Boone was the conductor.

It has also been found out, very happily, that there is no need of a male club singing a lot of stuff and nonsense with little or no music anywhere in the vicinity of it. Nor is it necessary to put up something forced, strained and unnatural, as so much of what was attempted by male voices used to be. The program last evening was full of legitimate and musical music, of widely differing sorts, well written—very well written—from a musician's standpoint and given with a hearty dash, fine volume of tone and musical quality of voices which rightly received the hearty applause of the large and intelligent audience.

"The Old Kentucky Home"—it is old, but it is the old places and friends, and songs, that always will appeal to those who have hearts to be appealed to—came out beautifully in the excellent arrangement credited to "Foster-Root." The basses sounded up finely in their part of the melody, the vocals were clearly heard, and the harmonies were rich and varied.

"The Sword of Ferrara" (Bullard) was splendidly given. The audience, which perhaps up to that point had not shown excess of enthusiasm, woke to the stirring strains and demanded an encore, which was given. This was a soul of Spanish rhythm that was very taking.

Indeed, the club's program seemed to be a good deal like the work of the Young Men's Christian Association itself. It was carried out through the efforts of young men and seemed to include the good of many parts of the earth. The "Sword of Ferrara" (and many will remember the words "Ferrara made and fashioned me in Cordova in Spain") recalled many of the world's celebrated battlefields, and other numbers had the flavor of China and of England. Even the last number, whose words (presumably "Cockney") might seem "impossible" to a musician, proved to be not only suitable but singable, and was given with a swing and dash that could not be resisted. Then there was the "Hong Kong Romance" (Hadley), whose words coldly read might seem hopelessly nonsensical, but which when sung was so bright and taking that its "manifold blisses" seemed to have been altogether too soon allowed to come to the end. De Koven's "Owl and the Pussy Cat," a captivating bit of music, was captivatingly given. That sort of music is real recreation, bright, clean, and pleasant to remember.

Dr. Luther's strong yet musical voice was heard to advantage in David's "King of the Winds." He responded to the deserved applause, giving Little's "Absence" for an encore.

Mr. Swan's singing, musical, forceful, of wide compass, needs no commendation. He sang duely a group of two songs by Alkiksen, "Since we parted" and "Absence," and gave as an encore "Dearie," by Kummer.

Mr. Greene, too, is a musician whose ability is well known. His numbers were the romance from Wieniawski's second concerto, Schubert's "L'Abeille," and a composition by Hubay, with a peculiar name but productive of sweet tones, some lively bits, and various passages of a style that might perhaps be classed as "characteristic." The audience was greatly pleased with this number and attempted a double encore. Mr. Greene, however, responded but once, playing as an encore, with violin muted, Schumann's ever sweet "Traumerei."

Miss Maher was well received. Her first number was "The Sioux Chief's Daughter" and later she recited, to piano accompaniment, Tennyson's "Crossing the Bar" and a sketch of a dear young creature's perplexity over the attentions of two suitors representing respectively the army and the navy. In response to an encore Miss Maher depicted some perplexities on the part of certain rejected male lovers.

It was a pleasant entertainment and the evening passed all too quickly.

JAMESTOWN.

(Regular correspondence of the News.)

Miss C. V. Landers, who has been visiting her parents, returned last evening to New York.

The children of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Boone have entirely recovered from their recent illness and after a long confinement are able to be out.

The hearing on the line of the east harbor of Jamestown, which was to have been held in Providence today, has been postponed.

Mrs. E. G. Littlefield, who has been visiting at Narragansett Pier, returned today.

The local farmers are busy today carting seed potatoes from Newport.

Mr. Charles Henry King, after a long illness, died yesterday afternoon at the home of his sister, Mrs. C. E. Dodge, on Greene lane. Mr. King had been ill with consumption for a long time, but was able to be out until a short time before his death. He was born in Newport 32 years ago, but has lived the greater part of his life in Jamestown. He leaves two brothers and a sister, Mr. Andrew J. King of Block Island and Mr. Robert G. King of Providence and Mrs. C. E. Dodge of Jamestown.

"PLAY AND SCORE ONE SIDED.

Holy Name Turns the Tables on the Fall River Team, Winning 73 to 25.

The Holy Name team has had quite a lay-off as far as games are concerned, for it seems an age since they played their last game with an out of town team. It was therefore expected that the game last night with the Fall River team would be well attended, especially as it was announced to be a benefit for the players. Either people are tired of the game, or they are not generous, or they did not hear of the game, for the attendance was not what it should have been, either as a benefit or on the merits of the play of the teams. The visitors played here December 19 last, under the name of the E. S. Brown team, and defeated the Holy Name players, 33 to 16. Last night they wore the same suits, but the score looked very much different at all stages of the game.

The Holy Name team took the lead at the start and held it to the end, gradually crawling away from the visitors. In the beginning the visitors had more shots at the basket than did the locals, but they were generally from a long distance and were not as accurate as the shooting of the Holy Name team. Toward the end the visitors were clearly outclassed. The score shows this, for in the first half Holy Name led, 32 to 11, and in the second half 41 to 14, the total score being 73 to 25, and the play was just as one sided as the score. The visitors complained about the work of the referee, but to an outsider it looked as though the Holy Name players were the ones who should have objected. The lineup:

Holy Name.	Fall River.
McManus, l. f.	l. f., Boynton
Waters, r. f.	r. f., Gifford
Palmer, c.	c., Daly
Doyle, l. b.	l. b., Canfield
Sullivan, r. b.	r. b., McMahon

Score—Holy Name 73; Fall River 25. Baskets—McManus 11, Waters 12, Palmer 5, Doyle 1, Sullivan 7; Boynton 1, Gifford 2, Daly 3, McMahon 5. From fouls—McManus 1; Daly 1. Missed foul tries—McManus 1; Daly 4. Missed field tries Holy Name 57; Fall River 42. Referee—Williams.

Previous to the big game the Hazard High School team defeated the Tigers, 29 to 25. The high school team got a big lead in the first half and the Tigers almost caught them in the second. With a little luck they would have won out in the last half.

It was announced that the East Boston Evening High School team would play the Holy Name team here next week.

This evening the Naval Reserves will play their first game in over a week, having as opponents the Dean Academy team, which should be able to show good basket ball.

CARNIVAL ATTRACTIONS.

Many replies are being received to the Carnival Committee's advertisement in The Billboard for attractions here for the Newport Carnival, and the executive committee will soon hold a meeting for the purpose of placing the matter of attractions for that week in the hands of a committee. In the West street fairs are popular on fete occasions and there are now organizations which are prepared to come to a place and put up in the streets a varied assortment of attractions in enclosures. The demand for these is considerable, and hence the committee must make its selection at an early date, in order not to be obliged to take what is left after every one else has made a choice.

MEN'S MEETING AT THE Y. M. C. A.

There will be another stereopticon talk, on the subject "The Winner," next Sunday under the auspices of the Army and Navy and the city Young Men's Christian Association, at 5 o'clock. This is one of Mr. Andrews's most popular addresses and another large audience is expected. The meeting will be held in the Army and Navy rooms, on Thames street. Mr. Karl M. Stone will sing two selections and there will be other music. All local men and older boys as well as enlisted men are invited to be present.

—United States Hotel arrivals include Miss Florence Hamilton, Garland Garden and E. J. Stevens of New York; A. S. Lothrop of Worcester, G. W. Pickford of Gloucester and C. Lougee of Boston.

—Last night was the regular time for receiving lobsters from Nova Scotia, but on account of the cold weather which has prevailed there for some time past the shipment was small, only 31 boxes coming here; 8 of these were for Tiverton. This small shipment will tend to make the price, already high, even higher.

—Frank, the six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Joseph Sully, died at the home of his parents in Cambridge, Mass., Wednesday. He was well known in Newport, where he had frequently visited his grandmothers, Mrs. Cower and Mrs. Sully. The body was brought here and interred in the family plot in St. Columba's Cemetery.

—A. O'D. Taylor has sold for George G. Williams his double-tenement property at 1 Allan's court, with about 2545 square feet of land, to William A. Richardson. This estate is bounded northerly by Allan's court, easterly by further land of vendor, southerly by Barney street and westerly by lands of Sarah R. Sweet and the E. A. Hazard estate.

—Chief Carpenter's Mate J. Trefry of the Monongahela and Mrs. Trefry celebrated the fifteenth anniversary of their marriage Wednesday evening, among those present being guests from Lynn, Nahant, Syracuse, Boston and Newport. Music was furnished by William A. Freeborne and Miss Jennie Sullivan and songs by Charles F. Young and Richard Graham. The presents were pretty and useful. A buffet-supper was served.

—At the First Baptist John Clarke Memorial Church Sunday the pastor, Rev. Edward A. Johnson, D. D., will preach at the morning service on "The Three Requisites for Personal Work." In the evening there will be a song service and preaching, the pastor continuing the course of sermons on "The Book of Books," the topic of this, the fourth in the course, being "The Unity of the Old and New Testaments."

REFUSED TO PROSECUTE.

City Solicitor Brown Declines to Act for Police Commission.

Says It is a State Body, and Should be Represented by the Attorney General.

There was something unusual at the regular session of the district court this morning. It was the refusal of City Solicitor J. Stacy Brown to act as prosecuting officer for the police, and is regarded as a part of the anti-Police Commission crusade. It came up in the cases of W. S. Rogers and William Goodman, when Mr. Brown announced that he appeared for the defendants and presented a motion which he wished to argue. As his appearance for the defendants left the chief of police without counsel, the case was postponed two weeks, at the request of the police. Mr. Brown said he had appeared for the police in prosecuting cases as a matter of courtesy, and not because it was his duty. It was in fact a relic of bygone days to have the city solicitor appear for the Police Commission, a state body, which should be represented by the attorney general, whose duty it is to be present if the Police Commission wants legal advice.

Two cases were heard. Michael F. Sheehan was found guilty of taking half a bushel of clams which belonged to William E. Peck and was fined $2 and costs on that charge. Martin Reddy was discharged on a similar complaint, but was held on another charge, that of assaulting Lew Williams at the time the clams were taken, and on that charge was fined $2 and costs. Both defendants appealed. Later, inquiry as to what it would cost to get Reddy released developed the fact that the $2, with costs, amounted to $15.85, which is pretty steep for a part of half a bushel of clams.

"OLD MEN" WIN TWO STRINGS FROM "DOCTORS."

Teams Nos. 2 and 7, the "Old Men" and the "Doctors," rolled their match in the Young Men's Christian Association bowling tournament this morning, the match having been postponed from last evening on account of the Euterpe Club concert. The "Old Men" as a team proved better day-time rollers, although the "Doctors" took the individual honors. The "Old Men" won two out of three games and are now tied with Christian's team for first place. Wheatland was high roller, with a single of 105 and a total of 283, Ecroyd made 99, Jacoby 95 and 96 and a total of 275, March 96, and Adams and Sisson 95 each. The individual and team scores were as follows:

Team No. 2.
Adams,	85	95	85	265
Marsh,	78	76	96	270
Franklin,	85	88	83	256

FOR THE MEN AT FORT GREBLE.

An entertainment was given last evening in the gymnasium at Fort Greble for the enlisted men at that post, by Mr. E. O. Andrews of the naval Young Men's Christian Association of New York, assisted by General Secretary A. H. Dalman of the local Association and Assistant Secretary E. F. McDonough of the local Army and Navy branch. The program consisted of witty sayings, musical selections and a stereopticon lecture entitled "A Christmas in Paradise." About 250 officers and men attended the entertainment.

THE BIG GUN ON THE SCOW.

The big 12-inch gun did not go on the scow this morning, because the tide fell so fast that Contractor Sullivan was afraid to roll it on and so there was a delay until this afternoon, when the tide rose enough to allow the big piece to be rolled on without risk. It was removed from the yard and out of the way of teams going to the depot before work ceased yesterday, and but for the low tide this morning would have been at the government dock at Jamestown this afternoon. According to the inscription on the muzzle, the gun is No. 10 of the model of 1906, 12-inch bore, and its weight is 53.10 tons, with 13435 M. M. T. as inspected by the ordnance department. It was made at the Watervliet arsenal in 1904.

PROMOTION FOR A NEWPORTER.

Mr. Wanton M. Gladding, son of Harbor Master Gladding, has been promoted to be mechanical superintendent of the Morse Twist Drill & Machine Company of New Bedford. Mr. Gladding was a machinist at the Torpedo Station when, two years ago, he secured a position with the Twist Drill Company and moved to New Bedford with his family. Since then he has been about the country on business for the company, and after various advances has been promoted to his present position, evidently because the company appreciates his capacity for the work. Mr. Gladding learned his trade at the Brown & Sharpe shops in Providence, and while he was learning the practical part in the shops he was studying the theoretical part and drawing in the schools, with the result that when called upon for the latter part of the work he was prepared.

"LOCAL GOVERNMENT IN ACTION."

Considered by Miss Kate L. Clarke at the Reading Class of the Civic League.

At the reading class of the Civic League yesterday afternoon Miss Kate L. Clarke, who was in charge, considered in a scholarly and interesting way Part IV, "Local Government in Action," of Professor Hart's "Actual Government." The subject of "Rural Units of Government" was taken up by Miss Agnes Storer, who read from Bryce's "American Commonwealth." The rural units of government are the town, county and mixed system, the town existing largely in New England, the county in the South and the mixed system in a variety of forms in the middle and northwestern states. The affairs of the counties are managed by a board of commissioners and so the county is less democratic and educative than the town. The mixed systems vary among themselves, but the county idea is less prominent here than in the South.

Miss Nina M. Wilks gave an excellent abstract of Bryce's "Reflections on American Institutions." The functions of the rural units of government are the making and repairing of towers and bridges, the administration of justice, the care of the poor, the proper care of sanitation and the care of education. On the whole the township is governed by competent and honest men and most of the Southern states are now divided into townships rather than into counties. The mixed system of the Middle states is probably the best rural unit, as it has the advantage of both the town and county system.

According to Bryce, Miss Clarke stated, the one conspicuous American failure is our city government, although that is better than it was 20 years ago. Three distinct periods of American city government are evident: The first to 1800; the second from 1800-1830 or 1850, and the third from 1830 or 1850 to the present time. In the first period the city was neglected; in the second a great deal of power was vested in the council, and the tendency in the third period is toward the extension of the power of the mayor, a tendency not exemplified to any great extent in our proposed new city charter.

In conclusion, Miss Clarke summarized Professor Hart's chapters on "Political and Party Organization in Cities," "Essential Defects of City Government by State Legislation" and "Possible Improvements in City Government." The division of the voters of a city on questions which do not immediately affect municipal affairs, that is on questions of national politics, is one of the most serious defects of American city government. In the long run, "the only effective remedy," according to Professor Hart, "for ill-government in the city, and the only guaranty for good government, is a sentiment of civic pride."

MILLER—BECKER.

Miss Emilie J. Becker, whose marriage to Albert J. Miller of New London was announced yesterday, is a popular member of Brunhilda Lodge and the Young Women's Temperance Union, while the groom is at present employed at the Old Colony shops, being one of the new machinists who came here last year. He is an enthusiastic Red Man and Haymaker and has affiliated with the local Red Men since his sojourn in this city. The couple have gone on an extended tour through Connecticut and New York, where they will visit Mr. Miller's children, and upon their return here will reside at 77 Third street.

MORE LIKE WINTER AGAIN.

The weather today is more of the winter and less of the Marchy variety than that of the past few days. The wind is from the northwest and is light, but the temperature was below the freezing mark all day, 26 being the best the thermometer could do in the way of heat. The sun, however, did its some good work and it was quite cheerful in the sunshine though bleak where the wind had a good chance. The cleared weather gave the shipping that was waiting a chance and all the tugs and barges, with the exception of the three which dragged yesterday, had sailed before noon.

OPERATIVE FOR TWO YEARS.

Strike of Paving Cutters Settled by Adoption of a New Agreement.

WESTERLY, March 23.—The strike of the paving cutters employed in various shops in this town was settled today with the adoption of a new agreement, practically the same as the old one, with the exception that it is operative for two years instead of one as formerly. The two-year clause was the main contention of the manufacturers, and the failure of attempts to get the workmen to agree to this was the chief cause of the strike, which occurred March 1, when 40 cutters left their work. Other changes in the new agreement were of a minor nature.

WRECKS OFF NEW ENGLAND COAST.

During the Winter 85 Lives and 54 Ships Lost.

Casualties Off the Maritime Provinces Included.

BOSTON, March 23.—A grim toll of 85 lives and 54 ships, with property amounting into hundreds of thousands of dollars in value, is a partial record of the payment exacted by the storm king along the coast of New England and the maritime provinces for the winter just officially ended. These are, of necessity, only partial statistics. The list of missing vessels and crew would greatly swell the list, but the above figures were taken from accounts of wrecks where the fate of the unfortunates was fully established.

While the winter has been comparatively mild on shore, the season at sea has been one of extreme severity, particularly in waters off the provinces. There the year's greatest catastrophes have occurred. Cape Cod, commonly the scene of numerous wrecks, was unusually free from fatalities up to last Monday's blizzard. Many vessels were driven ashore, but, with few exceptions, were saved, with little accompanying loss of life. In this week's storm, however, at least three vessels were lost on the Cape and others were driven ashore where there is some chance of saving them. The coastwise and fishing fleets, as usual, have been the greatest sufferers.

Of the 54 vessels wrecked 37 have been sailing craft, and, with one or two exceptions, all have been schooners, square riggers in these waters being now almost extinct. Nine steamships and eight barges complete the fleets. Ships flying the British flag lead those of other nations in the list of fatalities, with a total of about 27 against 25 of merchant register and a sprinkling of Norwegian, German and Swedish craft.

By far the worst disaster in this territory for the winter was the foundering of steamer British King off Sable Island March 11, on a voyage from New York to Antwerp, when it is estimated that at least 18 and possibly 26 out of a crew of 56 lost their lives. The correct figures will probably never be known, as there were said to have been desertions before the ship sailed. Only the heroic work of steamers Bostonian and Mannheim, who brought off 17 and 11 men respectively, prevented a much greater loss of life.

The season of storm and shipwreck commenced in November, when Norwegian steamer Turbin struck the rocks off Clark's harbor, Nova Scotia, and in sight of persons on shore struck and held for a brief moment on the ledges, then surged forward on the crest of a large wave and disappeared, with her crew of 11 men. In less than a fortnight after the Turbin tragedy British steamer Lunenburg struck the rocks in a heavy storm off Amherst harbor, Magdalene Islands, and 12 out of a crew of 17 perished. From then on scarcely a week has passed without its story of wreck and hardship, and Boston has been the port of entry for many a vessel bringing thrilling tales of hardship and heroism.

Nantucket has been the centre of most of the New England coast storms, and the lightships on that station have had a fearful winter. In a gale December 30 relief lightship No 58 was torn from her moorings. Anxious search was made by three government ships, one of which came up with the storm-driven craft, and had barely time to take off her crew before the vessel plunged to the bottom. The ship sent to take the place of the one which sank had hardly less trying weather, and during the series of storms early this month one sailor became insane on account of the incessant tossing of the station ship.

Reports that have come in since the blizzard early in the week cause fear that the lists of casualties may be greatly increased. There has been no day without its story of disaster. Many vessels are overdue and the actual fate of many of them may not be learned for several weeks, at least, and in some instances may never be known.

THREE TRAINS WRECKED.

Cars of Livestock Run Into and Large Number of Hogs Killed.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, March 23.—Officials of the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern railroad have received reports of a serious freight wreck which occurred early today at Goshen, Ind. Three freight trains were involved in the wreck. An east-bound freight train, containing a number of cars of livestock, stopped for water, and was run into by a second train, demolishing many cars and killing a large number of hogs. Some of the wrecked cars were thrown over into the west-bound track, and were run into by a third freight train. It is reported that three railroad employes were injured. The wreck is one of the most serious from a financial viewpoint that the road has experienced in some time.

STONE BUILDING BURNED.

Other Structures in Boston Market District Saved by Firemen.

BOSTON, March 23.—For three hours early today more than half of the Boston fire department fought a furious blaze in the four-story stone building at 12 and 13 Faneuil Hall square, occupied entirely and owned by Warren W. Rawson & Co., wholesale and retail dealers in seeds and produce. This building, together with its contents, was destroyed at a loss of about $75,000, and it was only by reason of a favorable wind and the fact that the building stood a little apart from other property that the firemen were enabled, after desperate efforts, to save other buildings in the market district. One fireman, Thomas McFarland, of engine company No. 8, was overcome by the smoke and removed to the relief hospital. Warren W. Rawson, of Arlington, a member of the governor's council, is the head of the firm. The loss is covered in part by insurance. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Results in Stomach Troubles and Physical Breakdown, Wright & Hay Offers Simple Remedy.

The strenuous life of modern times forces people to rush through their meals hastily, hurrying from the table in the mad rush after the almighty dollar.

The result is incomplete digestion, inflammation of the walls of the stomach, and lack of secretion of the gastric juices, ending in chronic stomach trouble and nervous breakdown.

How much better it would be to eat more slowly, cure the stomach trouble with Mi-o-na, and soon regain perfect health. The headaches, sleeplessness, nervous troubles, pain after eating, specks before the eyes, backaches, melancholy and gloomy forebiding would be soon overcome and perfect health and strength would be restored.

So reliable is Mi-o-na in curing all forms of stomach weakness and troubles that Wright & Hay give a signed guarantee that the remedy will cost nothing unless it cures. Each box of Mi-o-na sells for 50 cents, and is invaluable to anyone who suffers with indigestion, nervousness or weak stomach.

VACANT LOT CULTIVATION.

Hundreds of New York's Poor Families Will Take Up Work on the Astor Land.

[New York Tribune.]

Vacant lot cultivation, which has been found to be a most potent influence in the relief of poverty in other cities in the United States, has not prospered greatly in New York, but is to have another trial this summer, under the direction of Bolton Hall, who has carried on a similar work with great success in Philadelphia for several years, and was interested in a previous experiment in New York. The land, about 30 acres, on the Bear Swamp road, near Morris Park avenue, has been lent by the Astors. It is the old Burke homestead, and will accommodate about a hundred families on quarter-acre lots, which may be had for the asking, without red tape or investigation, as long as they last.

Only one condition will be made, namely, that the lot shall be cultivated. Otherwise it will be forfeited; but in Philadelphia this happened only once in 250 cases. Those who wish to may live on the place, and there are acres of woodland where the children may play. The farmers will receive assistance in erecting shelters or securing tents, and in Philadelphia some of them displayed great ingenuity in the construction of their dwellings. One man made a little shelter by nailing soap boxes together for walls and finishing the place with a tin roof.

Mr. Hall has secured the services of William Ryan of Philadelphia as farmer in chief, and the work of ploughing and preparing the ground has already been begun. Mr. Hall has been anxious to try this experiment in New York, owing to the greater degree of attention that it will attract throughout the country.

"The public mind is so constituted," he says, "that it pays more attention to what happens in New York than to what happens in any other city in the country. A successful experiment here will have much greater value as an object lesson than anything that could be done in Philadelphia. The idea of vacant lot cultivation originated with Mayor Pingree of Detroit, but attracted little attention at the time, and Detroit itself repudiated Pingree and all his works. But as soon as New York started a vacant lot farm, in 1898, the very papers and magazines that had refused to publish articles before wrote to ask for them."

The work did not last long in New York, not because it was not successful, but because of the impossibility of getting land. This was not because there was plenty of suitable land lying idle, but because the owners were not willing to have it used in this way. Mr. Hall knows of no reason for this except the instinct such people acquire for letting the land lie idle.

"There can be no other reason," he said, "for we don't do it any harm, and we undertake to vacate in 30 days' notice. But the Astors," he added, "have been very generous, and didn't require any persuasion. They let the Salvation Army use the land last year, but the work was begun too late and was not a success."

It is probable that one of the charitable societies of New York city will co-operate in the work.

EVERYBODY LIKES GOOD PIE.

There is no longer any excuse for poor pies on your table, as you should follow the lead of thousands and use D-Zerta Quick Pudding as a filling for pies. Try this recipe:

D-Zerta Chocolate Cream Pie.

Prepare a package of D-Zerta Chocolate Pudding according to directions on package, adding one-half cup of sugar. Put in crust which has been baked. Cover with meringue made with the whites of two eggs. This makes two large pies or three small ones.

All the five flavors—Lemon-Tapioca, Vanilla, Orange-Macaroon, Chocolate and Strawberry, can be used in the same way, and bananas, cocoanut, etc., added as desired. D-Zerta Quick Pudding is also used as a cake filling and for a pudding dessert. Simply add a quart of milk to contents of one package, bring to a boil, cool and serve with cream and sugar. TORTURING PAIN.

Half This Man's Sufferings Would Have Killed Many a Person, But Doan's Cured Him.

Thousands of grateful people are telling every day how Doan's Kidney Pills cured them of distressing and dangerous kidney and bladder troubles.

Yet other thousands are suffering every day from these same ills. Why? They are either very negligent or very skeptical. Neglect of kidney disorders leads to dropsy, diabetes, Bright's disease and other fatal diseases.

Sincere, honest testimony like the following should convince every skeptic.

A. C. Sprague, stock dealer, of Normal, Ill., writes: "For two whole years I was doing nothing but buying medicines to cure my kidneys. I do not think that any man ever suffered as I did and lived. The pain in my back was so bad that I could not sleep at night. I could not ride a horse and sometimes was unable even to ride in a car. My condition was critical when I sent for Doan's Kidney Pills. I used three boxes and they cured me. Now I can go anywhere and do as much as anybody. I sleep well and feel no discomfort at all."

A. C. SPRAGUE

A FREE TRIAL of this great kidney medicine which cured Mr. Sprague will be mailed on application to any part of the United States. Address Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. Sold by all dealers; price, fifty cents per box.

AN OYSTER DINNER.

Tiny Shells and Seaweed Make an Effective Table Decoration.

Menu for Five or Six Friends Which May Prove Something of a Novelty.

[Cornelia C. Bedford.]

As the season for oysters is drawing to a close and many of us are advocates of a Lenten fish diet, an oyster dinner for five or six friends may prove something of a novelty. Should you be so fortunate as to live near the sea coast or have friends who can procure them for you, a very seasonable table decoration would be tiny shells and seaweed with a large conch shell as a centrepiece. When this is out of the question use an abundance of ferns or other greenery with a few white flowers.

While the chocolate parfait stands almost at the end of the menu it should have consideration early in the day, since it must stand in the freezing mixture for fully four hours. Boil together one cupful of granulated sugar and one quarter of a cupful of water until the syrup will spin a thread when dropped from the tines of a fork. In the meantime place three squares of grated or shaved sweet chocolate on a saucer and stand over hot water until melted. Take the syrup from the fire, blend it gradually with the chocolate, then add the very thoroughly beaten yolks of six eggs, stand over hot water and stir and beat until the mixture thickens just enough to coat or "mask" the back of the spoon. Transfer to a pan of cold water and beat until the mixture is cold, spongy and light. Add two thirds of a tablespoonful of vanilla and one pint of very rich cream whipped to a solid froth. Have ready two thirds of a cupful of mixed candied fruits cut quite small and steeped in brandy or wine. Drain them. Fill the mold with the parfait, sprinkling some of the fruit over each layer. Cover and bind the edges of the mold with a narrow strip of muslin dipped in melted lard and bury in ice and salt. Cover the pail and set away in the cellar or any cool place until needed.

For half a dozen persons it will be wise to order one quart of small oysters and a pint of large ones, a three pound tail piece of codfish or a four pound white fish, two cucumbers, one large bunch of watercress, two cans of French peas, 25 hard shell clams. Pick over the bunch of cress, discarding all yellowed or wilted leaves or branches, wash through several waters, then drain and roll in a towel which has been wrung out of cold water and keep cool until needed. Peel the cucumbers and cut in the thinnest slices possible. Let stand in salted ice water for half an hour. Partly fill a deep serving dish—a small tureen or deep bowl is best—with chopped ice, drain and lay on it the cucumbers and cover with more ice and set aside for an hour at least. Open the cans of peas, turn them into a colander and drain, rinse thoroughly under the spigot, then throw into a bowl, cover with fresh cold water and let stand for an hour; this will remove the tinny taste and make them very like fresh ones. Pick over and rinse the oysters, keeping large and small separate; strain all the liquor, heat and skim it until no more scum will rise, then cool and set aside for use.

For the first course take one cupful of the strained and cooled oyster liquid, add one cupful of tomato catsup, the strained juice of two lemons, one tablespoonful of worcestershire sauce, six drops of tabasco and salt to taste. Mix this and set on ice to become thoroughly chilled. Divide among six cocktail glasses and in each drop about eight of the small oysters. The glasses may be prepared a little in advance of the meal, but the oysters should not be added until the last moment, as the acid in the mixture will toughen them. With this course may be passed long wafers.

Scrub the clams very thoroughly in several waters to remove all sand and dirt from the shells. Place them in a saucepan with a half cupful of cold water, heat slowly to the boiling point and boil closely covered, until all the shells have opened. Drain off the juice and strain it through doubled cheese cloth. Take an equal quantity of milk. Scald in a double boiler and for each cupful add one level tablespoonful of flour blended with cold water to a thin paste. When smoothly thickened cover and cook for five minutes. Season well with white or cayenne pepper. Have the clam juice heated separately and put together a moment before serving, adding salt if needed. When served drop a spoonful of whipped cream in each bouillon cup.

To prepare the grisini served with it take one pint of light bread dough, add two tablespoonfuls of soft butter and the slightly beaten white of one egg. Work thoroughly, adding a little flour as needed to keep from sticking. Place in a greased bowl, cover and stand in a warm place until doubled in size. Take off bits the size of a small egg and with the hands roll out on the board until as thick as a lead pencil. Lay an inch apart on greased pans. Let stand until slightly raised, brush with egg white and bake in a moderate oven. These are served cold.

Wash the fish thoroughly, trimming off the fins. Stand on a plate and steam steadily until the flesh begins to draw away from the bones—this will take from ten to twelve minutes to the pound. In the meantime cut a lemon in thin slices and cut the rind round the edge of each slice in points or scallops. Also chop fine about two tablespoonfuls of parsley. When the fish is done use a silver knife and fork to remove the skin, turning very carefully. When this is done transfer to a hot platter, pour a few spoonfuls of the sauce round and over the fish, sprinkle with the parsley and garnish with the slices of lemon. For the sauce scald one cupful and a half of milk and make a white sauce, using two tablespoonfuls each of butter and flour. Season highly and a few moments before serving drop in a pint of the rinsed and drained small oysters. Stir slowly and as soon as the gills begin to ruffle take from the fire. Should the sauce be too thick add a little oyster liquor, which you have hot in a small saucepan. When taken from the fire add the yolk of one egg beaten with a tablespoonful of cream.

Boil the potatoes earlier in the day. Mash them while hot, season well, adding butter and a little hot milk; then to each pint add when slightly cooled two well beaten raw eggs, a drop of onion juice and a tablespoonful of chopped parsley. When cool enough to be handled mold into little pointed rolls, give each three slashes and place an inch apart on flat greased pans. These are to be baked in a quick oven until brown and when beginning to color they should be brushed over with a beaten egg.

Drain the peas from the cold water. Place in a saucepan with a half teaspoonful each of salt and sugar, a quarter of a teaspoonful of white pepper and two scant tablespoonfuls of butter; if you have it you may add one leaf of fresh mint, which is to be removed before they are taken from the fire. Heat, shaking often, until smoking hot, then dish at once.

The sliced cucumbers have been standing in a bowl of chopped ice. Drain off most of the water and pour directly over the cucumbers a French dressing prepared by mixing together four tablespoonfuls of olive oil, a half teaspoonful of salt, a quarter of a teaspoonful of black pepper and one tablespoonful of plain or tarragon vinegar. Add another cupful of chopped ice and send them to the table.

The large oysters which have been rinsed and drained should be placed in a saucepan with a dash of salt and pepper and a half cupful of strained oyster liquor and heated rapidly until the oysters begin to plump and ruffle. Take instantly from the fire, drain them, and set away on ice to chill thoroughly. In the salad bowl arrange the cress, drop the oysters in the centre, sprinkle them with a single spoonful of the French dressing. Send to the table with the salad a bowl of mayonnaise to which has been added a little stiffly whipped cream.

KEEP CLOSE TO THE RIGHT KIND

[Success Magazine.]

Whatever you do in life, make any sacrifice necessary to keep in an ambition arousing atmosphere, an environment that will stimulate you to self-development. Keep close to people who understand you, who believe in you, who will help you to discover yourself and encourage you to make the most of yourself. This may make all the difference to you between a grand success and a mediocre existence. Stick to those who are trying to do something and to be somebody in the world—people of high aims, lofty ambition. Keep close to those who are "dead in earnest." Ambition is contagious. You will catch the spirit that dominates in your environment. The success of those about you who are trying to climb upward will encourage and stimulate you to struggle harder if you have not done quite so well yourself.

DAILY NEWS PATTERNS

Ladies' Long Kimona or Lounging Robe.

No. 8236—There are many times when a long Kimona is more useful than a dressing sack, and the model here shown is for use of those times. Women nowadays usually find time to rest a little while during the day, and during that time her resting robe should, first of all, be comfortable and above all dainty and pretty. The garment shown today will not be found wanting in either of these requirements. It is made in real Japanese style with drop shoulder, and with kimona sleeve. If desired one could wear a sash or silk girdle with the garment, although it is very pretty simply trimmed with bands. Any of the figured silk, cashmere or cotton crepe which is very inexpensive may be used. Sizes small, medium or large.

To obtain these patterns, send 10c. for single or 20c. for double and number and size of pattern desired to Pattern Department A. Daily News Office.

HOW'S YOUR STOMACH?

Wm. H. Cotton Has a Remedy Which He Guarantees to Cure the Worst Cases of Stomach Troubles.

I wish to tell the readers of this paper about a remedy for Dyspepsia, which is a marvel in medicine. It cures the worst cases, from the acute attack of indigestion to chronic dyspepsia. This remedy is known as Alberts' Little Dinner Pill, being the prescription of Dr. Hutchinson, the noted specialist of London and Brighton, England, who previous to his decease had built up a remarkable practice as a specialist in diseases of the stomach. Dr. Hutchinson claimed that his success was due to the use of this pill, and since its introduction on the American continent it has performed wonderful cures.

Mr. J. H. Lombard, Casco, Me., writes: "I am now past 81 years of age and have had stomach trouble practically all my life. I sent and got a sample package of Albert's Little Dinner Pill, thinking that it would turn out to be one more disappointment, but from the first dose I found relief, and can say that I am now better than ever before in my life. It is a wonderful cure for Dyspepsia and I heartily recommend it to all sufferers from Stomach trouble."

Alberts' Little Dinner Pill contains no Physic, no Acid, Alkali, Geiger, Pepsin, Pancreatin, Soda, Morphine or any preparation of Opium, or in fact any of the ingredients usually found in so-called Dyspepsia cures. It cures by removing the cause and makes the worst cases well, being guaranteed to benefit or the purchase price returned. Sold at drug stores or by mail, 25 cents per package. Samples free. Address Albert Chemical Co., Boston, Mass. Sold and guaranteed by WM. H. COTTON, 226 Thames St.

MORE OLD "ADS."

Real Estate Transactions and Marine News in 1839.

Well Known and Familiar Names Found in a Newspaper of More Than 60 Years Ago.

The old copy of the Herald of the Times for October 3, 1839, had a real estate column of "ads," each "ad" being adorned with a picture of a house. These pictures varied slightly, most of them having a tree or two near the house but a few having none. At the top of the column is a somewhat complex announcement over the date of September 15, 1839. The subscriber wishes to close his concerns in Newport offers to sell the dwelling house, barn, and lot of land recently occupied by him on Touro street and to rent until sold. Also for sale, the lot of land at the Food and Boat House Factory, with the Dwelling House thereon, on "Starving" Indigestible Hills of both places and great bargains are offered. Apply to Isaac Stall, Tanner, or S. Dennis, Food P. Lake, Washington, Newport.

This "ad" might open up something interesting in the minds of some of the old inhabitants. The names of Stall and Lake were well known in former Newport days. And, by the way, why shall a street starting near Lake's corner be called Pond avenue and not Lake street, to correspond with the street next it named Gould street for another old Newporter? Of course there was "Gould's pond, as the boys used to call it, between these two that explains a place to fly kites, etc., but the name of Lake seems to be passing from memory and the street might commemorate it.

Henry Potter advertises for sale his well known stand for business in Thames street, with a dwelling house of 13 rooms, outbuildings and a good well of water.

William S. Vose offers to let house on Thames street. It counts, "a good cistern and a well of water." It needs a pair of glasses to read the small type and the space intervals of no trees around the house in the small cut that embellishes the "ad."

This we skip to "the pleasantly situated house on Catherine street next east of Bellevue House," where Truman H. Spencer has the "convenient chambers" to let.

"Inquire of King" or "this office" was prepared to give terms and immediate possession, having to let the house recently occupied by E. N. Cox, Esq., in Spring street.

Joseph C. Shaw has a "pleasant house for one of his summer quarters." Trees both sides of the three story house. He has also the modern style house offered being "in a central situation on one of the pleasantest streets in Newport," and suitable for a private family or boarding house or tavern. "N. B. Four or five rooms will be fitted for a few months ready furnished." This looks a little like summer business, as the date is July 11.

The next one has a long perspective, so to speak, and ends with a name of another years.

"FOR SALE
And possession given the first day of May, 1840."

The picture has trees both sides of the large house and the "ad" fills considerable space in good sized type. The property is pleasantly situated at the corner of Washington and Willow streets and is well known as the "Tockwotten house." Said house has two throws of a lot, a garden, fruit trees, inter shrubbery, on excellent well that never fails, etc. "The subscriber, who is leaving the premises," is Alexander Barker and the "ad" is dated June 5, 1840.

The next seems to contain history of interest to all. Customers did not seem to be greedy for such "Valuable Real Estate," for the "ad" had been running from December 27, 1838. It offers for sale THE new and convenient Dwelling House and Store, built about two years since, and now occupied by the subscribers. Said Estate is situated on the fork of Broad and Spring streets. For further particulars enquire of

ZENAS L. HAMMOND."

Aside from the information about the real estate in question, the name of Zenas L. Hammond will call up a host of memories in the minds of many now living in Newport. He was one of Newport's characters. Somewhere about in the "sixties" he had a shoe shop in what is now the Covell building. It is said that one Fourth of July he was discovered up on the roof holding Yankee Doodle. It is also understood that many a year later, when he was called in to be a witness in a pension case, and he and the woman who needed his evidence were both well along in age, he was still full of his pranks. Kicking his boot high in air it might have been as high as his head he was not fully convinced that "they're all gone but one old woman, and we're going to live forever." It is hoped they are living forever, but both passed from mortal ken quite a while ago.

The next is of much interest, as it is connected with one of Newport's best families.

ELEGANT
COUNTRY SEAT
for sale

For a short reasonable terms, the ELEGANT MANSION HOUSE OF ROBERT JOHNSTON, Esq., near the celebrated Newport Beach, together with all the buildings and about eight acres of land of prime quality.

The situation for prospect and scenery is not exceeded by any in New England—is ornamented in the Lawn in front and also with a variety of Fruit Trees and elegant shrubbery, and presents to a gentleman of taste an opportunity for investment of capital very seldom to be found. For terms and view of the premises apply to

JOSIAH C. SHAW,
Newport, R. I.

June 25.

On the other water front Stephen T. Northam offers to let two houses on the Long wharf. O. Hindmarsh, on the premises, will also give particulars.

Lastly but not lastly Richard K. Randolph offers for sale or to let, with or without furniture—the House on Washington square, the late residence of William Ellery, deceased. This short announcement would be a sufficient starter for a whole article.

But—to turn from the advertising columns, although but the border of them has been examined. There is some "news" in the paper, and to read it a magnifying glass would seem to be needed by any not having extra good eyes. The column is headed in fair sized capitals, "Job printing neatly executed at this office." Then come marriages, then deaths and the marine news of the "Port of Newport."

Under the head of marriages is one in Fall River of parties whose relatives are known to be still in Newport. Mr. Joseph G. Carr and Miss Ann Chappell. Mr. Carr was born in Jamestown. He lived in the stone house (Carr homestead) five miles from the ferry. When seven years of age he went to Fall River, where he afterwards became a mill supervisor. His first work was in the old Bidlgo mill, which stood where the "granite block" now is. He was 56 years in the mill business and acquired quite a little property, being at one time the owner of a four tenement block on Hope street, and also owning two other tenements on that street and a four tenement house on Fourth street. He was a deacon in the Baptist Temple church and also founded and for 29 years regularly conducted the mission chapel in North Tiverton. He and Mrs. Carr were not infrequent visitors to Newport. He died in May, 1888, at the age of about 72. Mrs. Carr was a sister to James H. Chappell and the late Mrs. Thomas W. Wood of this city and also of Mrs. Mary Mason of Taunton, whose husband was brother of William Mason, owner of the large machine shops in that city. Mrs. Mason as Mary Chappell attended a private school in Newport, living with her aunts, the late Misses Abby and Mary Chappell, the latter becoming the wife of William Bartlett and succeeding to the ownership of the Corne property on the corner of Mill and Corne streets.

Mr. and Mrs. Carr were survived by three children. The oldest, Frank, learned the jewelers' trade of the late John Marshall Hall of Newport, and afterwards went into business here in company with William Tilley. He later was in business in Fall River. Another son, Rev. William C. Carr, is pastor of the Baptist Church in Malone, N. Y. A daughter, Miss Annie M. Carr, lives in Tiverton, having made her home for some time with her brother, now police commissioner, and Mrs. Henry Wilcox. Mr. Carr, the subject of this notice, was son of Joseph and Mary (Underwood) Carr. His wife's father, Mr. Chappell, went to Fall River when the place was in its infancy and was a leading citizen there. He belonged to a large Newport family, whose homestead still stands at the southeast corner of Mill and Division streets. Mr. and Mrs. Carr were married by Rev. Mr. Bronson, who, it is thought, was the grandfather of Messrs. Bronson and Burgess, some time teachers in Rogers High school, a Baptist clergyman of Fall River much respected and beloved.

The marine news starts with "cleared" and the first item is barque Rio, Champlin, Brown, Pacific coast, schooner Banner, Nickerson; and sloops Rienzi (familiar name among the old Newporters), Heath, and Tecumseh, Child, had cleared for Providence. Also had cleared at New York for Newport on Monday, schooner Rio, Cozzens, for this port. The rest of the marine news is under the head of "Arrivals." It gives details of the whaling business. It begins "Thursday, September 26, with schooner Gazelle from New Bedford "with oil for the lighthouses." Schooners Thetis, Sherman and Sea Flower are from Lubec for New York. The Rienzi had come from New York. On September 25 arrived "Barque Hamin, Russell, from Pacific Ocean, with 1,100 bbls. sp. oil, bound to New Bedford." She seems to have brought a full cargo of news too, for the report goes on "Left at Emo, April 2nd, ship Wm. Lee Hussey of this port 700 bbls. Harvest, Cash Boy, Enterprise, Leon, Averie Lode, Hoard from February 5, ship Mechanic, of this port, 200 bbls., spoke, July 29, lat. 25, long. 39, ship Catherine from Nantucket, 2 months out, no oil—left at Pernambuco, August 15th, George Washington, Gibbs, 2,500 bbls. and Nic Coggeshall, 1,200, both on the previous to the highest bidder, certain pews in the Unitarian Congregational Church, in Newport—(Seven are mentioned, by number only) to pay arrearages of assessments. Pew No. 28 owes $16.37½, etc. The higher debt is $39.37½. By order of the corporation, Dexter J. Pearce, Geo. W. Elliott, Thomas J. Peckham, committee. Next is "Pews at Auction" at the "Methodist Chapel in this Town." "In conformity to the Act of Incorporation. All the Pews and parts of Pews in said house, which may then be forfeited to the Corporation for Taxes, and incidental charges. All interested will govern themselves accordingly. Benj. Mumford, steward."

BILLS FOR INCREASE OF PENSIONS.

Senator Wetmore yesterday introduced in the Senate a bill to increase to $30 per month the pension of Stephen A. Barker of Providence. Mr. Barker served in Company C, First Rhode Island volunteer infantry, and now receives a pension of $12 per month. He also introduced a bill to increase to $30 per month the pension of Frank N. Nichols of East Greenwich. Mr. Nichols, who now receives a pension of $12 per month, served in Company D, First Rhode Island volunteer cavalry.

NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE.

"I am sending you my photograph to show what Newbro's Herpicide has done for me.
"Since I first tried Herpicide upon my hair I have used it exclusively in giving scalp treatments to others, and I would not think of trying to get along without it."
(Signed) MRS. ANNA CONNER.
266 Archer Ave., Chicago, Ill.

Hundreds of lady scalp specialists and hair dressers use and recommend Newbro's Herpicide, instead of products of their own manufacture upon which a much larger profit could be made. They claim that Herpicide makes friends for them and gives much better satisfaction. Some hair dressers use Herpicide for obstinate cases only, but why not use the best first?

Herpicide is a delightful dressing that can be used when there is no disease of the hair or scalp, and as an actual remedy for dandruff, Healing scalp and falling hair it stands in a class singularly its own.

Many ladies object to a gummy and sticky hair dressing, or one that is full of sedimentary chemicals intended to dye the hair. The marked preference for a clean and dainty preparation, particularly one that overcomes excessive oiliness and leaves the hair light and fluffy, is reflected in the enormous sale of Newbro's Herpicide. Discriminating ladies become enthusiastic over its refreshing quality and exquisite fragrance. It stops itching of the scalp almost instantly.

LAUNCH LOOTED BY CHINESE PIRATES.

Secure Winchester Rifles and Much Ammunition.

Gunboat Callao on the Way to Scene of Capture.

HONG KONG, March 23.—A launch owned by the Standard Oil Company was seized and looted by pirates near Canton yesterday. The pirates secured a number of Winchester rifles and a thousand rounds of ammunition. United States gunboat Callao is proceeding to the scene of the piracy.

Gunboat Callao is attached to the Asiatic fleet, and is commanded by Lieutenant Robert W. Henderson. She is of steel, having a displacement of 200 tons and carries six guns. She has the speed of 10 knots an hour.

Canton, in the vicinity of which the launch was attacked, near the mouth of the West river in the province of Kwangtung, is the great seaport of southern China.

NO CHANGE IN SITUATION.

Joint Scale Committees of Operators and Miners Meet.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 23.—The joint scale committee of the joint conferences of the coal operators and miners of the central competitive district and the southwestern district went into executive sessions today in a final effort to break a deadlock that has existed since the conferences on the wage scale began. Every proposition made by either the operators or miners has been voted down in the preceding meetings of the two joint committees.

It was reported before the joint scale committee of the southwestern district went into executive session that the operators of that district had decided to make a proposition to the miners' representatives that the entire wage question for the district be left to an arbitration board, to be named by President Roosevelt.

The joint scale committee of the central competitive district took a recess until 2 o'clock. F. L. Robbins of the operators, said there was no change in the situation.

President Mitchell said today that he had set no time as yet to call the anthracite committee together, but a meeting might be held tomorrow night. The members are here. The meeting will consider President Baer's letter accepting Mr. Mitchell's proposition for a conference, and will fix a time and place for this conference to endeavor to adjust the anthracite wage controversy.

SOFT COAL PRICES HIGHER.

Growing Feeling That Strike in Bituminous Regions Certain.

CHICAGO, March 23.—Soft coal prices are advancing daily in Chicago in view of the growing feeling among coal dealers that a strike in the bituminous regions at least is certain. There was little western soft coal to be had in Chicago yesterday. The price has advanced from $1.10 a ton to $1.60 a ton within the last few days.

ELEVEN BODIES RECOVERED.

Twenty-One Miners Believed to Have Lost Their Lives in Explosion.

GRAFTON, W. Va., March 23.—Twenty-one miners are believed to have lost their lives in yesterday's mine explosion at Century, W. Va. Eleven bodies had been recovered at noon today and ten men are still missing. Those not yet accounted for are thought to be dead in the mine. It is impossible to give the names of the dead, but they are known to be mostly foreigners, as very few Americans were employed in the mine.

The explosion is supposed to have been caused by an accumulation of natural gas and occurred in the "A" lead of the second south main. None of the men in the "A" lead escaped. Many of the dead leave large families and the anguish and distress to be seen on all sides is pitiful in the extreme.

ROCKEFELLER CAN VISIT BABY.

Attorney General Hadley Will Not Serve Him With Subpoena.

NEW YORK, March 23.—Fear of a subpoena, which would compel him to testify in the proceedings brought by the state of Missouri against the Standard Oil Company, need not prevent John D. Rockefeller from visiting his youngest grandson, John D. Rockefeller III, if he chooses to do so. Attorney General Hadley of Missouri, who is here prosecuting the suit brought by his state, said today that he would declare a truce if Mr. Rockefeller desires to come to New York. "I will agree with his lawyers not to try to serve him while he is here," said Mr. Hadley, "and he can stay until it is safe to take the baby back to Lakewood with him if he wants to.

"I don't think I will need the testimony of Mr. Rockefeller anyway," Mr. Hadley continued, "if I can get the information I want from the other witnesses I expect to examine. The courts have ordered them to answer my questions, and I haven't the slightest doubt they will do so."

TESTIMONIAL TO ELLEN TERRY

American Members of Theatrical Profession to Contribute.

NEW YORK, March 23.—It was announced today that a movement has been begun among the members of the theatrical profession in America to contribute to an Anglo-American testimonial to Ellen Terry, the actress on the occasion of a jubilee planned on the fiftieth anniversary of her career as an actress. A banquet in honor of Miss Terry will be held in London April 28 and a plan has been adopted in England of receiving subscriptions of a shilling each toward a testimonial. To make it of an international character, Daniel Frohman, of the Lyceum theatre, New York, has been appointed to receive subscriptions of 25 cents each. Members of every theatrical company in America have been given an opportunity to join in this tribute.

BUILDING OPERATIONS LARGE.

Unfavorable Weather Causes a Setback in Spring Trade.

NEW YORK, March 23.—Despatches to Dun's Review indicate that there has been a setback in spring trade because of the unfavorable weather, but no decrease appears in manufacturing activity. Boston reports that weather conditions have not disturbed trade and helped late winter merchandise, but retail sales in spring lines are retarded. Building operations are large and footwear factories well engaged.

Bank exchanges this week at all leading cities in the United States are $2,579,451,559, an increase of 1.1 per cent over the corresponding week last year.

GROWN MORE RESTLESS.

Governor Pattison Sustains Further Loss of Strength.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, March 23.—Governor Pattison's private secretary, Mr. Hinck, said today that Mrs. Pattison, over the telephone, had told him that Governor Pattison had passed a fairly good night, and was resting well this morning.

Dr. E. J. Wilson, after leaving the executive residence, today, said: "Governor Pattison spent a comfortable night and was resting easily Friday morning with the prospects of a favorable day ahead."

The physicians still fail to explain the exact nature of the governor's illness.

At noon the following bulletin was issued: "Since midnight Governor Pattison has grown more restless and there developed some edema in the base of the lungs. He has sustained further loss of strength. Temperature 102, pulse 130, respiration 28."

APRIL CROP OF ICE EXPECTED.

Coldest Day of the Winter and Spring in Burrillville, Conn.

WINSTED, Conn., March 23.—Remarkable weather for gentle spring struck this vicinity early today, and at 5:30 o'clock, the official thermometer in Burrillville, a few miles distant, registered 14 degrees below zero. It was the coldest day there of the present spring and the late winter. In Winsted the thermometer was 4 below zero, and in Norfolk and vicinity it registered anywhere from 6 to 8 below. The farmers are looking happy and figure on putting in an April crop.

FOREST RESERVE ALLOTMENT.

Causes Trouble Between Oregon and Washington Sheepmen.

SALEM, Ore., March 23.—According to a letter written by Governor Chamberlain to President Roosevelt, serious trouble is brewing between the sheepmen of Oregon and Washington. The letter states that three quarters of that part of Wenapa forest reserve located in Oregon has been alloted to Washington sheep raisers, while the Oregon men are given only one quarter. On the other hand, no Oregon sheepmen are given any of the range in that part of the reserve located in Washington.

Governor Chamberlain says he is informed that at a meeting of the sheepmen and wool growers, held at Walla Walla, December 16, last, a committee of sheepmen were allowed to allot the range and that as Washington sheepmen predominated on the committee they took practically everything. The governor in his letter charges that G. M. Schmitz, chief ranger of the reserve, and Chief Forester Schiller of Washington have all their interests in the state of Washington, and that both federal officers allowed the allotment to stand. The letter asserts that many of the Washington sheep are affected with "scabies," which will be brought into Oregon, and because of the fact that the sheep will be on government ranges the state authorities are powerless to do anything in the way of inspection. The governor asks the President that an investigation be made.

TO DREDGE THE HARBOR.

Bids Opened, the Contract Awarded and the Work to Begin Next Week Probably.

The many cases of vessels grounding in the inner harbor on account of the shallow spots has caused the sum of $10,000 to be allotted for work in removal of these shallow places, and today Lieutenant Colonel Willard opened bids for the work under this allotment. There were but two bids, from the J. S. Packard Dredging Company and from C. M. Cole of Fall River, and the contract was awarded to the latter at his bid of $17 per hour, as that was the more advantageous for the government. The places to be dredged being scattered, the bids were not in the usual form of so much per cubic yard, but for the time actually consumed by the dredge at the work. This appropriation should reduce many of the knobs at the harbor bottom so that there will be less grounding. The work will probably begin next week.

FUNERAL OF MRS. VOGT-SMITH

Funeral services for the late Mrs. Johanna Vogt-Smith were held this afternoon at the Channing Memorial Church and were attended by a large gathering of friends. The seats on the right were reserved for the pupils of the Rogers High School and the women teachers, and this part of the church was well filled. The members of the school committee, Dr. C. F. Barker, Rev. Dr. Porter, Mrs. Marsh, W. H. Sullivan, W. W. Covell, Dr. Darnell and Mayor Cottrell, also had seats on this side. On the other side were representatives of the many classes of the Rogers, from a few struggling representatives of the classes of '77, '78 and '79, the first ones taught by Mrs. Smith to the class of '95, the last to graduate. It seemed as though every class was represented. Among those present were Dr. and Mrs. Robinson, Dr. A. F. Squire, Miss Cottrell, H. B. Wood, Dr. Cottrell, Dr. Corbett, Dr. Carr, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Langley, A. O'D. Taylor and H. L. Dyer.

The bearers were Superintendent Lull, Head Master Thompson and Messrs. Leslie, Greenlaw, Bryant, Stevens and Webber, of the high school teachers. The pupils of the school sent a handsome floral pillow. The services were simple and were conducted by Rev. William Safford Jones, who spoke briefly yet appropriately of the more than a generation of influence which Mrs. Smith had exerted on the youth of Newport as a teacher. The body will be taken to Forest Hills for cremation.

ECZEMA ON HANDS 20 YEARS
Could Do No Housework for Weeks at a Time — Little Daughter's Face and Head Also Covered With Teething Sores — Mother and Child at Expense of $5.00

CURED BY THE CUTICURA REMEDIES

"I have been troubled with eczema on my hands for twenty years. Have been so bad that I could not dress myself or do any house work for weeks at a time. I used several different salves and washes, but they did not seem to do any good. At last I got a treatment of Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Resolvent, and in two months' time my hands were all healed and have never troubled me since.

"I also used the Cuticura Remedies for my little girl when she was cutting her teeth. Her head and face were covered with teething sores. I don't think I paid out over five dollars for the Cuticura Remedies before we were all cured. I think Cuticura Soap is just lovely for the complexion. I keep it in the toilet for my own special use. Mrs. H. E. Gilman, Box 305, Lisbon, N. H., Sept. 14, 1905."

11—Pitful trading prevailed for a while, as a result of which Reading and Pacific Mail were lowered a point, Northwestern preferred 2, Delaware & Hudson 3. Strength meanwhile was developing slowly among the trans-continental stocks and when they began to move up sturdily the entire list followed. Delaware & Hudson rebounded to a point over last night and Reading to 1½. There were also gains of 1 to 2 in several stocks.

Noon—Money on call steady, at 1½ per cent; prime mercantile paper, 5 @ 5½ per cent. The advance carried Reading up 2¾, Central Railroad of New Jersey and Great Northern preferred 2½, Sloss-Sheffield Steel 2 and Northern Pacific 1¾. The principal activity was in Reading. The demand subsided and prices slipped back, but there was no urgent selling pressure and prices rose to the best again at noon. Bonds were irregular.

The congregation of the First Presbyterian Church held an adjourned meeting last evening, to act upon the report of the committee which was appointed when Rev. Mr. Mead resigned to select a candidate for the vacant pastorate. There was a large attendance. The committee reported unanimously, recommending Rev. Aquila Webb, D. D., pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church of Middletown, N. Y., and the congregation extended a unanimous call to Dr. Webb. Rev. Gerhart A. Wilson, D. D., of Providence acted as moderator of the meeting.

Rev. Dr. Webb is about 38 years old, and is a graduate of the Union Theological Seminary of New York. He was pastor for several years of the First Presbyterian Church at Los Angeles, Cal., and later gave up that charge, against the wishes of his congregation, preferring to locate in the East. He accepted the pastorate of the Middletown, N. Y., church about two years ago and has been its pastor since that time. Dr. Webb preached at the First Presbyterian Church in this city last summer, and again about a month ago, making a favorable impression upon the congregation.

RESTRICTING THE PRESS.

A Minnesota law, passed nobody knows what for, perhaps as a legislative fit for fat to the newspapers, forbids the publication of the details of a capital punishment beyond the bare fact of the execution, the time and the crime. The St. Paul newspapers treated the law as Pickwickian and regaled readers with a taste for the grewsome to the customary purfoit. A St. Paul judge called the attention of the machinery of prosecution to the offence, and three editors are under indictment. The case has been taken to the Minnesota supreme court to see if the legislature has not trenched upon the freedom of the press.

THE "BLACK CROOK" AGAIN.

The old legend of the "Black Crook" woven into the lines of a comedy and enhanced by a number of catchy musical selections, is one of the attractions offered at the Opera House next week. The story is an old one, but possesses sufficient charm to make a good sort of plot for a musical comedy. Modern subjects may serve as the introduction of elaborate costumes of new creations, but the old stories put to music, like "Humpty-Dumpty," "Mother Goose" and "Sinbad," have proved the most fascinating themes for musical comedy.

The company presenting the "Black Crook" is said to be a strong one, the leading roles being taken by Emmett O'Connor, Clara Sidney, Joseph Cusack, Edith Carlisle, Maud Martin, Claude Lightner, Hilda Hawthorne and William Lewis, assisted by a the spectacular will be appeased in chorus of 30 members. The love of "Black Crook," for there are a number of scenes, to carry out which requires a carload of scenery.

THE NEWSPAPER EVERYWHERE.

[Ben F. Hampton.]

Can any of you imagine for a minute what life would be without the daily newspapers? We will have to go back only a few years when there were not nearly so many of them as there are now. Only a few years ago the dailies were confined almost to the larger or more important cities. Nowadays it is a pretty small town that has not at least one hustling daily newspaper, and towns of fair size support two or more. Can you imagine what life would be without these mediums of information? The daily newspaper goes into the home, the office, the factory, the shop, on the cars, on trains, wherever you find human beings there you will find the newspaper. More than that, you will find the newspaper is read carefully not only for the news of people and events that it gives each day but for the interesting news of the stores.

GOOD IN SPOTS.

The "Devil's Auction," as presented there last evening, was good in spots but hardly brilliant anywhere. It of course contained much which a quarter of a century ago would have astonished the theatre-going public, but nowadays much is expected. The company had a large amount of good scenery hung at the Opera House last evening and it was displayed to excellent effect, barring times when the dressing room doors were opened and let in light upon dark changes, detract from the effect. The company was strong, but Carlos M. Tonack as Toby was depended upon to a large extent to make things go. The ballet was not offensive in the eyes of the theatre-going public, of today and showed much life, but there was a dearth of song until the last act. The mechanical transformations were good.

ENTERTAINING A CONFERENCE.

Large Number of Methodists to be Provided For.

Homes to Which the Visiting Clergymen and Others Will be Welcomed.

The official Manual for the sixty-sixth session of the New England Southern Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, to be held with the First Church in this city, beginning Wednesday next and continuing during the following week, has been issued and is already in the hands of the ministers and laymen of the Conference. It is a handsome little book of 24 pages, printed on calendared paper, and contains a large amount of interesting matter concerning the arrangements for the Conference, with a fine picture of First Church on the cover. Included in its contents are portraits of the presiding bishop, Rev. Earl Cranston, D. D., LL. D., and of the presiding elders of the Conference—Rev. W. I. Ward of the New Bedford District, Rev. A. J. Coultas of the Providence District and Rev. J. I. Bartholomew of the Norwich District; a brief "Foreword," or welcome, signed by the pastor, Rev. C. A. Stenhouse, and the members of the executive committee—T. T. Pitman, J. W. Horton and T. Fred Kaull; the Official Directory of Visitors, the Conference Program, the list of standing committees of the Conference, the Directory of Entertainment of the visiting clergymen and others connected with the Conference, names of ministers not expected to be present, contributors to Conference entertainment, a concise historical sketch of Newport, and information regarding transportation to and from Newport.

The matter of entertainment of so large a body of ministers and laymen as will be in attendance upon the session of the Conference, in a place like Newport, is one of no small difficulty, but has been very happily arranged. It has been entirely in the charge of Rev. Mr. Stenhouse, pastor of the entertaining church, with the assistance of Rev. E. W. Burch of the Thames Street Church, and others. The large number of persons to be provided for, most of them for an entire week, will be entertained for the most part in the homes of the members of the First, Thames Street and Middletown churches. In addition, nearly all the clergymen of other denominations in the city, and many laymen of other faiths, will welcome some of the visiting ministers to their firesides with generous hospitality. As the arrangement was made of necessity some time ago, some changes from the printed lists are inevitable, but these will in many cases explain themselves. Some clergymen, too, are provided for in private families only for lodging, or for lodging and breakfast, and in these cases an asterisk against the name requires them to call at the Information Bureau, for assignment to boarding places in the city for meals.
